'Big Push' Seen Near In Korea

Allied Air Fleets Hammer at Reds Over North Border

By EARNEST HOBERECHT
United Press Staff Correspondent

TOKYO, Oct. 6.—(UP)—Allied air fleets raked North Korea from the 38th parallel almost to the Soviet frontier today while Gen. Douglas MacArthur reshuffled an army of 150,000 for his "big push" against the Korean Reds.

The decimated North Korean Reds were reported trying desperately to prepare a delaying action just north of the frontier, but two South Korean divisions already across the 38th parallel were biting into the enemy flanks. One South Korean division was more than 85 road miles north of the Communist border.

MacArthur's official spokesman estimated that the North Korean armed forces have suffered 200,000 casualties.

They include more than 40,000 Red prisoners—the equivalent of four full-strength divisions. In the last three days alone, 14,028 prisoners have been captured.

U.S. warships destroyed three more enemy mines yesterday off the east coast north of the 38th parallel, boosting the allied bag to far to 68. Intensified air-sea patrols were ordered. One American mine sweeper already has been sunk and two destroyers damaged by mines.

RESUME ATTACKS

U.S. bombers, fighter-bombers and fighters roared off Japanese and Korean airstrips at dawn today to resume their hammering of the enemy's supply lines from Russia and Manchuria, troop concentrations and other key targets.

B-29's struck within 57 miles of the Soviet border. They blasted the railway marshalling yards at Susong, a key junction on the northeast coast railway running to Russia and Manchuria.

Other super-fortresses for the second straight day hit the Communists' underground arsenal at Kan, 10 miles north of Pyongyang, the Red capital. Yesterday's raid totuched off a series of heavy explosions and fires that sent smoke clouds billowing 5,000 feet in the air.

Fighters and fighter-bombers concentrated on roads and railways over which the Communists were trying to move troops and supplies down to their pre-war fortifications, just north of the 38th parallel and stretching roughly from Haeju in the west to Hwachon.

The airmen were out to better yesterday's total of two tanks, 85 vehicles, three locomotives, 101 railway cars, nine fuel dumps, two ammunition dumps and 87 military buildings destroyed or damaged.

On the ground front, a communique disclosed that the South Korean capitol division turned west after crossing the 28th parallel near the east coast last week-end and advanced 27 miles into the enemy's flank.

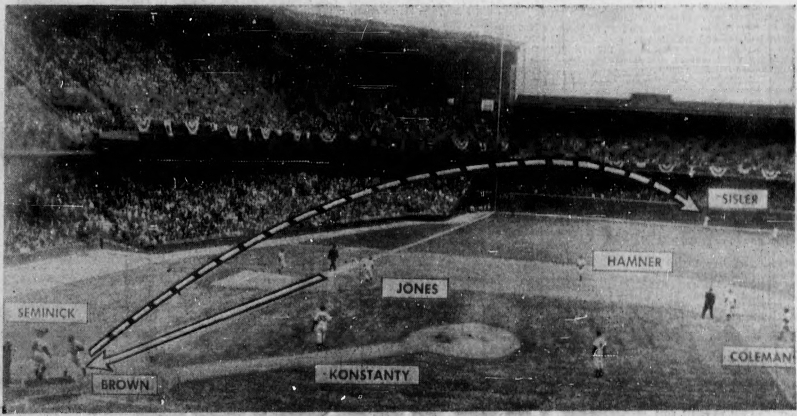
Dismissal of 18 Starts Strike Of Firefighters

MELBOURNE, Australia, Oct. 6—(AP)—This city of 1,200,000 is without a proper firefighting force today.

Melbourne's 520 firemen went on strike yesterday, and today only 76 fire brigade officers are on duty.

So far there have been no [illegible] to fires, but officers have been called out by false alarms.

Eighteen firemen were fired yesterday for refusing to obey an order. The rest began the strike.



Yanks Get Runs Even When Runs Are Few and Far Between

NEW YORK YANKEES haven't exploded their traditional power in this world series but still get runs they need to win. Here's third-sacker Bobby Brown scoring winning and only run of first series game in Philadelphia Monday. Run came in fourth inning, when Gerry Coleman (running toward second), poled long fly to outfielder Dick Sisler (broken line). Brown held third for catch and then raced home (white line), as Phil catcher Andy Seminick made room at plate. Tightly-fought series continued according to form today.

Markets In Brief

TORONTO, Oct. 6—(CP)—Industrials and base metals climbed slowly into new high price ground on the Toronto Stock Exchange today.

The market started on an irregular tone but found support as the session progressed. Moderate demand increased late in the day and gains widened. Volume was about 2,300,000 shares.

★ ★ ★

MONTREAL, Oct. 6—(CP)—Securities again began an upward movement on the Montreal Stock Exchange and curb market today.

After showing a hesitant tendency to move lower, a flurry of demand in the late stages sent many key issues pushing ahead.

Gains, however, did not have too big an edge over losses. Changes were mostly small fractions, with a few issues advancing a point or more. The odd issue lost a point.

★ ★ ★

NEW YORK, Oct. 6—(AP)—A widespread forward movement led by oils, motors and steels today put the stock market substantially higher.

Gains were frequent at about $1 a share and ran on into $2 and $3 among leaders.

The volume of trading was fairly heavy at an estimated 2,400,000 shares as compared with 2,490,000 shares yesterday.

Speed-Up Reported

Eskimos Heading East In Search of Big Wins

By Dick Beddoes

ABOARD ESKIMO SPECIAL, Oct. 6.—The front running Edmonton Eskimos are on the road to Regina where the Rugged Roughriders play.

And the attitude of the Eskimos is that they can knock off the Reginans in the Saturday scuffling at Taylor Field.

In three meetings to date, Eskimos have headed the Riders into the vale of defeat twice.

The Green and Gold figure the Winnipeg Blue Bomber hurdle will be tougher to scale than the one in Regina. After all, the troublesome Bombers have lowered the boom on Edmonton a couple of times in three engagements.

"But don't forget," said coach Annis Stukus over a poker hand last night, "that last Monday's triumph over the Bombers did wonders for our mental attitude. Had we lost that game, we would have developed a Winnipeg complex and wouldn't have beaten them all

U.K. Liberals Seek Inquiry Into Ban on Play

LONDON, Oct. 6—(CP)—Britain's Liberal party announced today it is seeking an independent inquiry into circumstances surrounding the banning of the television play, "Party Manners."

Liberal leader Clement Davies has written postmaster-general Ness Edwards saying the play's withdrawal must lead to "serious speculation about the impartiality of the BBC."

The play was withdrawn following criticism by the pro-Labor Daily Herald, which said it displayed anti-government bias. It had previously been shown as a stage play, without protest.

Three Glass Firms Fined $10,000

TORONTO, Oct. 6—(CP)—For operating as a price-fixing combine for 20 years, nine Ontario and Quebec glass companies today were fined a total of $44,000 and court costs estimated at $15,000.

Three were ordered to pay $10,000 each and costs, the maximum penalty. Five others were fined $2,500 each and costs and the ninth, described as an individual jobber, was fined $1,500 and costs.

T. N. Phelan of Toronto, federal prosecutor, had suggested that the companies be fined $10,000 each and required to share costs of the investigation.

Mr. Justice W. R. Treleaven of the Ontario supreme court imposed the maximum penalty on Hobbs Glass Ltd., London, Ont., and on Pilkington Brothers (Canada) Ltd. and Consolidated Glass Ltd., both of Toronto. He said these firms were the largest in the group and gained more than the others from the combine's operations.

$2,500 FOR FIVE

He said the five he was fining $2,500 each and costs were smaller firms, and that the penalties in their case would not be so high that they would be forced out of business. They are Advance Glass and Mirror Co. Ltd., Canadian Plate and Window Glass Ltd., Excelsior Plate Glass Co Ltd., and Queen City Glass Ltd., all of Toronto, and J. P. O'Shea and Co. Ltd., Montreal.

In the case of Lloyd's Glass Company of Hamilton, described as an individual jobber, the fine was $1,500 and costs.

The companies, in a surprise move at their trial Sept. 26, all pleaded guilty to the charge, laid under the Combines Investigation Act.

In admitting their guilt, they claimed they had done no injury to the public. The combine had "brought the industry out of chaos" and "enabled it to serve the public better."

The government took a much more serious view. The federal prosecutor, T. N. Phelan, said at the trial the companies had submitted identical bids on at least 153 separate tenders.

Explosion Rips Calgary Plant

CALGARY, Oct. 5.—(BUP)—An explosion of undetermined origin ripped through the brick and concrete building of Canadian Liquid Air in east Calgary last night.

No one was injured in the blast which blew the front end out of the structure.

The explosion occurred shortly after five o'clock, and firemen remained on the scene for about three hours, to control fires breaking out in acetylene tanks stored in the plant.

4th Refinery Is Reported Planned Here

A fourth large oil refinery for Edmonton was rumored here today with Standard Oil of California being named as one firm likely to build in the Clover Bar area.

Dr. J. Weir, representative of Standard Oil in Alberta, told The Bulletin in a telephone conversation from Calgary:

"We have no knowledge here of the company building a refinery at Edmonton."

Provincial government officials would neither confirm or deny the rumors. One official said he also had heard that a large refinery would be built in the area.

He said that he had also heard that a smaller refinery was being considered.

GOV'T NOT CONTACTED

In neither case has the government been contacted.

An official at Municipal District of Strathcona office, in which district the refinery area is situated, said no sale of farm lands has been put through recently in the area.

He added that he, too, had heard the rumor about a new refinery.

Standard Oil Co. of California have no offices in Edmonton.

Imperial Oil Co. Ltd. now operates a $10,000,000 refinery just east of the city near Clover Bar.

British American Oil Co. Ltd. has a refinery, costing $3,000,000, nearing completion and McColl-Frontenac Oil Co. has construction well advanced on a third refinery.

Drumheller Gets Over 2 Inches Of Snowfall

DRUMHELLER, Oct. 6.—A heavy rain, which started here last night and turned into driving sleet by early this morning, had deposited .70 inches of moisture and a snow fall measured at over two inches.

The early morning bus from Hanna was equipped with chains to make the run. A transport truck crew reported this morning that during the storm last night it had taken seven hours to travel 18 miles.

Valley Bus Lines reported that they were sending buses out on schedule to areas within the Drumheller Valey.

New York Yankees Whip Phils Again

Coleman's Single to Centre Wins In Last Half of 9th

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—(CP)—New York Yankees made it three games in a row in their defence of the world championship as they edged Philadelphia Phillies 3-2 in the ninth inning today.

Jerry Coleman's single to left centre with two out in the last of the ninth gave the Yankees their victory before 64,505 fans.

Two scratch infield singles by Gene Woodling and Phil Rizzuto after two were out set the stage for Coleman's game-winning blow between Richie Ashburn and Jackie Mayo into left centre.

Tom Ferrick, who came in when Eddie Lopat was lifted for pinch hitter in the ninth, received credit for the win over Russ Meyer, third Phil pitcher. Meyer pitched only the ninth in his first series' appearance.

Coleman, who had only one hit in the previous Yankee victories, collected three off Ken Heintzelman and Meyer, driving in two of the three runs.

The handsome Yankee second baseman scored Phil Rizzuto with the first run of the game in the third. Then after the battle seesawed into the ninth, he put over the clincher.

COSTLY ERROR

The Phils might have won the game but for a costly error by shortstop Gran Hamner with the bases full and two out in the eighth. Hamner's fumble of pinch-hitter Bobby Brown's hopper let Coleman score the tying run, 2-1.

Ken Heintzelman, gray-thatched Phil lefthander, had the Yanks eating out of his hand with a four-hitter going to the eighth when he suddenly lost control.

There were two gone and nobody on when Heintzelman walked Coleman on a 3-2 count. Then he passed both Yogi Berra and Joe DiMaggio on eight straight balls.

Manager Eddie Sawyer called for Jim Konstanty, his relief ace and 1-0 opening-day loser. It was Konstanty's tough luck to have Hamner bobble Brown's grounder that would have taken him out of the inning with a 2-1 lead.

FIRST INNING

Phillies — Waitkus drilled a ground single into right field. Ashburn struck out. Jones tapped weakly in front of the plate and was thrown out by Lopat. Ennis rapped a sharp grounder at John-

Gerhart Defends Gov't Financing

Minister Answers Charge On Hoarding of Dollars

MEDICINE HAT, Alta., Oct. 6.—(CP)—Oil revenue is regarded by the Alberta government as a capital resource, Municipal Affairs Minister C. E. Gerhart yesterday told the 46th annual convention of the Union of Alberta Municipalities.

"We believe that oil money should be regarded as a depletion resource and should only be invested in another capital resource or for the retirement of debt," he said.

"It should be used for permanent things—such as roads, public buildings, possibly new schools and hospitals—but not for the subsidy of operating costs.

"Is it right to use your valuable oil asset to capitulate to some pressure group which would have us set up an operating expenditure which we might not be able to maintain 10 years from now?

The government is not hoarding its oil dollars as has been charged, but using them on sound business principles as would any private corporation on the basis of liquidation of a capital asset."

Before Mr. Gerhart spoke, alderman Fred Parker of Calgary had told the delegates: "The provincial government can well afford to pay 50 per cent of educational costs. It has been trying to hoard money that rightfully belongs to the people. . . ."

SEEK NEW SOURCE

The minister's economic analysis was in rebuttal to a series of resolutions which will ask the government for 50 per cent assistance on educational costs and greater grants for other municipal services.

As an alternative, the cities were to propose today that unless more provincial subsidies are forthcoming that a general form of sales tax legislation be enacted to open a new source of revenue to the municipalities.

This proposal grew out of a resolution submitted by the town of Redcliff. It asks for enabling legislation for a three per cent sales tax or an agreement by the province for a share of all licence fees collected.

RELATES PLANS

In a caucus of the cities' section of the convention yesterday, it was agreed to support the sales tax proposal but only as an alternative if the province refused greater municipal grants.

Mr. Gerhart, who also spoke on civilian defence plans, asked the convention if it would be willing to hold a second session this year should an emergency arise. The Association replied unanimously in the affirmative.

season. But now we regard them as just another ball club, one that we can beat by playing 60 minutes of sound football."

EARLY TO BED

A twin win for the Esks this Thanksgiving week-end would virtually assure them of first place in the final standing. However, a double loss for them, combined with two Winnipeg victories, would catapult the Bombers into the lead.

Meanwhile, Calgary Stampeders make a last ditch effort to slip into the playoffs, tangling with Winnipeg tomorrow and Regina on Monday.

The stumbling Stamps trail the third place Reginans by four points at this point, and have four games left to play.

Eskimos hit the hay early last night, Stukus imposing an 11:30 curfew.

BACK TO SCHOOL

But most of them were in the sack before that, the poker games having petered out.

Speaking of cards, Eskimo vice-president Henry Singer lost his shirt in a canasta game. However, this is not a serious plight, Henry being a haberdasher by trade.

You might say he had a canastrophy.

Other Edmonton supporters travelling in the three-coach Eskimo party are president Walter Sprague, Roy Haliburton, Bud Allard, Moe Leiberman, George Snowden, Joe Shoctor, Ron Clements and Jack Brasier.

Bob Paffrath's wife Berniece is also in the party, along with three junior Paffraths.

She is returning home to Redwood Falls, Minnesota, in order to get the kids enrolled in school.

One interested onlooker at the Regina and Winnipeg games will be Ted "Toronto Telegram" Reeve, veteran football observer who selects the All-Canadian teams for Maclean's Magazine.

How he will pick the stars from the stars is his problem, but the editors of Maclean's have already ordered pictures of five Eskimos, Bill Briggs, Don Durno, Doug Pyzer, Lindy Berry and Morris Bailey.

Famed Physics Professor Dies

BURLINGTON, Vt., Oct. 6 — (CP)—Dr. Howard Turner Barnes, 77, FRS, who served on the physics staff of McGill University for more than 30 years, died here yesterday.

He earned world recognition for his studies of ice. Born in Woburn, Mass., he studied at McGill and in 1919 became director of its department of physics.

Dr. Barnes published two books, "Ice Formation" in 1906 and "Ice Engineering" in 1928.

Recent Diet legislation provides for the licensing and registration of architects throughout Japan.

SURVEY SHOWS

Everybody, It Seems, Gets British Jets

By JAMES J. STREBIG

WASHINGTON Oct 6 — (AP) — A United States survey showed today that Britain has supplied jet military planes to most of the world's air forces.

A study made public by the Aircraft Industries Association lists British jet fighters as standard first-line equipment for 15 other countries. In addition, British engine designs are in use in both the United States and Russia.

Countries which are using British jet fighters are France, Italy, Sweden, South Africa, India, Norway, Venezuela, Switzerland and Argentina, all using the Vampire a small, single-engine plane; the Netherlands, Belgium, Denmark, Egypt and Argentina, using the two-engine Meteor; and Canada, using both the Vampire and the Meteor.

The only country committed to an American jet fighter is Canada, which is building a large number—something more than 100—North America F-86 Sabres.

Crash In Station

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 6 — (AP)—Eleven persons were taken to hospital and several others treated on the scene [illegible] when a street car collided with a trolley bus in the Harvard Square subway station.

Reader's Digest showed millions how to wax a car in 20 minutes!

A "diamond-shine" without rubbing when you winter-wax this easy way!

How to clean before using Car-Plate

Wax should always be applied to a clean car. The finish should be free of road film and decomposed paint. That's why it is important that you clean your car thoroughly before applying Car-Plate. For quick, easy cleaning of your car, Johnson's Carnu is recommended. It contains a mild abrasive that does the job fast—leaves a perfect surface for a sparkling Car-Plate finish.

Your car will come shining through the hardest winter when you wax it the no-rub way with Johnson's Car-Plate. For Car-Plate gives the finish of your car such wonderful protection that you'll surely want to use it before winter sets in. And it will only take you 20 minutes to do the job!

Car-Plate is the result of a great new basic chemical discovery in the Johnson's Wax laboratories. It's a free-flowing, liquid wax. Just spread it on the cleaned surface . . . let it dry . . . then wipe lightly. That's all! Today, give your car a "diamond shine" with Car-Plate . . . and wax-protect the finish for the months to come!

Only $1.00 enough to do any car twice

JOHNSON'S CAR-PLATE

the brightest, smoothest longest-wearing auto wax in the world!

Driver of Truck Sued For $55,845 Damages

Damage claims totalling $55,845 have been filed against the driver of a truck involved in a fatal accident in the city last October 8.

The driver of the truck, Gus Arndt, 6520 - 104 street, was sentenced to three months in Fort Saskatchewan jail on a dangerous driving charge following the accident. The dangerous driving count had been reduced from manslaughter.

In the truck-car collision on the Calgary trail, Edward Parker, 21, of 14419 - 101 avenue was killed, and his companion, Gordon Nieman, 20, of 10643 - 101 avenue, suffered severe injuries.

Nieman has filed damages totalling $39,999 against Arndt; and John Scott Parker, father of the dead youth, has filed damages totalling $15,846.

Nieman claims $35,000 general damages and special damages of $4,999.

His statement of claim charges general negligence on the part of Arndt and special damages include hospital and medical expenses, plus loss of wages totalling $3,250. He suffered a broken leg, cuts, bruises and shock, and was hospitalized seven and a half months.

Mayor Greets Union Men Of Breweries

Mayor Sid Parsons today delivered a welcoming speech to open the two-day convention of prairie brewery workers.

The mayor's speech was a sobering one. He talked on the coming need for defence in Canadian cities.

"The day may come when the cities of Canada will feel the weight of high explosives," the mayor said. "For Edmonton that would mean moving 150,000 people in the space of two hours."

"Labor would have to provide the shock troops," he warned.

The convention's 28 delegates to the fourth annual meeting of the Brewery, Malt, Soft Drinks and Allied Trades Federation of Western Canada (TLC—AFL) started business sessions this morning after hearing welcoming address of the mayor and J. E. Smith, Edmonton, federation president.

TEN OUTSIDERS

Of 28 delegates attending, nine were from Saskatchewan, one from Manitoba. Eight of Alberta delegates were from Calgary, four from Winnipeg.

Biggst news to labor circles to emerge from convention is the expected resolution to apply to Trades and Labor Congress of Canada for a national unon charter.

At present the federation is an association of a number of unions, each operating under separate federal charter.

Must Keep It Neat

Because the adjacency of the Miracle Mile will raise property values between 104 avenue and 101A street and raise the standard of building beautification in the same area, the new location of the somewhat insignificant fire department communications building at 104 avenue and 100 street is not entirely suitable.

This site, one would think, would be somewhat too expensive for a $92,000 building of 40 by 60 feet which must be kept 150 feet from other buildings for purposes of safety.

But hundreds of thousands of dollars have been spent on laying underground cables towards this site and it would be, perhaps, uneconomical to change it now.

The only way, then, in which the new communications building can be kept from being an ugly and anomalous eyesore alongside the Miracle Mile is by making it architecturally attractive, as well as utilitarian, and by keeping its grounds meticulously in order.

If particular thought is given to making its architectural lines conform with those of the Miracle Mile and if it is surrounded by a carefully kept park, it will fit into the general scheme of development in that area.

If these factors are neglected, the whole project will be a mess and part of the lift the Miracle Mile should give to that district may be lost.

This is the time to make sure that the new building conforms to the larger plans for the area.

Community Chest Drive Is Slow

Officials of the Community Chest drive state that contributions are coming in slowly.

This is unfortunate because the charitable and welfare purposes served by the Community Chest are not luxuries but necessities.

Every act of mercy and kindness performed by the agencies represented in the Chest is absolutely essential in a civilized community. It would not be possible to dispense with one of them and maintain the standard of life to which we adhere.

Thus, if these services are not rendered by the agencies which compose the Community Chest, they have to be rendered by someone else.

If they are not rendered privately, they must be rendered publicly.

If it is necessary to render them publicly, the same people who ordinarily support the Community Chest will pay for these services in taxes. And they will pay probably twice as much as they would pay through the Chest.

The outstanding merit of the Community Chest is that it raises needed money much more cheaply and much more efficiently than any other method. It reduces administrative costs to the donor.

The Community Chest appeal, therefore, is not a sentimental appeal nor a humanitarian appeal although the purposes it serves have both sentimental and humanitarian aspects.

It is essentilly an appeal to the business sense of the community.

Certain things have to be done.

The Community Chest does those things more cheaply than any other person or system could possibly do them.

The Community Chest drive, then, is merely an opportunity given to the citizen to save himself money.

It is a pity when he does not take advantage of it.

Poor Hope for the New Zoo

The city council's finance committee has considered the question of Edmonton's new zoo and has done absolutely nothing about it.

It has refused to include $50,000 for zoo purposes in the capital estimates for 1951.

It has refused to make any decision on the continuance of the Borden Park zoo, on the grant to the Exhibition Board of 300 feet of Borden Park, on the Walterdale flats area as a site for a new zoo.

All this adds up to a pretty dim hope for a new zoo in Edmonton.

The Edmonton Bulletin has always taken the position, which we still consider to be absolutely sound, that unless the city and the citizens are prepared to spend enough money to have a decent zoo, they might just as well forget about zoos altogether.

In short, a poor zoo is infinitely worse than no zoo at all.

Certainly it is going to be a poor zoo if the city exhibits the same interest as was exhibited by the finance committee.

The zoo is being subjected to the same fumbling, the same delays and the same procrastination as have ruined many other projects in this city.

Unless the full council is prepared to deal promptly with all the questions brought before the finance committee and unless it indicates a real interest in the subject, the zoo might as well be wiped out altogether.

Even a zoo can be killed by dilatory and slow-acting civic government.

Restrictions On Gas Sales

Both common sense and the bulk of public opinion in Edmonton support the demand of the Chamber of Commerce that the civic restriction on the 24-hour sale of gasoline in this city be lifted.

The Chamber says that the city has no more right to regulate the hours of gasoline sales than to regulate the hours of restaurants and other public services. It is utterly sound in that contention.

The city council and its committees spend hours playing duenna to gas stations and taxi drivers and ignore such vital questions as an adequate police force and urgency of a professional traffic survey.

Gas sales are closely controlled, while traffic runs wild for want of a decent traffic system and enough policemen to enforce its laws.

A city council should be legislative, not grandmotherly.

The Chamber of Commerce does exceedingly well to inferentially point this out.

CLEARING HOUSE

Vatican Said Chief Source Of Information On World

By NORMAN MONTELLIER

The Vatican today is one of the greatest learing-houses of information from all over the world.

That is the real reason, Rome circles believe, why the United States considers establishing full-time diplomatic relations with Vatican City.

Some diplomats who object to such relations because of the religious question involved admit privately that "nowhere else in the world is it possible to get so much concise, detailed information."

From all corners of the world, about 2,000 reports a week reach the Vatican from some 3,000 archbishops and bishops and 300,000 priests. The reports, especially those from eastern Europe, arriving by devious and unpublicized means, provide some of the most detailed information ever collected in one place.

Reports From 66 Countries

In 66 countries, papal representatives work for the Catholic Church. Also, 43 countries have their own ambassadors or ministers at Vatican City, including the exiled governments of Lithuania and Poland.

The church depends on reports from its clergy and from papal nuncios and delegates to maintain its defence against Communism and chart the progress of Catholicism in the social field.

The reports form the background for the 24-hour-a-day, 16-language broadcasts beamed to every corner of the world from the Vatican radio.

Russia, Czechoslovakia, Poland and other countries under Communist domination have paid Vatican radio as much attention as the Voice of America—rated by efforts to jam the Catholic Church's messages to its cut-off faithful.

Each of the Vatican's 12 congregations, each with a specific duty to perform, studies parts of the information received. One man, Pope Pius XII, sees more of the total than any other individual in his tireless effort to keep abreast of every development of the church's fight for survival in the east.

The Vatican reports are essentially on religious matters, but today they are receiving perhaps the most detailed reports in the world on life in North Korea and the cities captured by the Communists in the south.

They receive up-to-date information from Communist-occupied China, Manchuria and the isolated provinces along China's frontier with Russia.

Because the church is interested first in the people among whom its clergy and missionaries work, the reports are almost entirely about living conditions, but this inevitably must touch on political affairs, economics and public order.

Much Never Published

Much of the church-collected information is never published. Countries with diplomats in Vatican City have access to it, however, under certain circumstances.

With its information-gathering growing to keep pace with the lowering of the Iron Curtain over additional areas where the Catholic Church once moved freely, the Vatican has turned up its own "voice" to speak to Catholics suffering from Communist persecution.

The "Vatican Voice"—Vatican Radio—broadcast six hours a day 18 months ago. Now, Jesuit Father Filippo Soccorsi, the director, has an around-the-clock schedule.

Trivia

One of the most primitive of all living mammals, the opossum, is being bred on the Berkeley campus of the University of California by Harold C. Reynolds, museum technician in the University's Museum of Vertebrate Zoology.

Because of its penchant for cannibalism and its secretive, nocturnal, "lonewolf" personality all previous attempts to raise the opossum in captivity were abandoned. Reynolds, who has studied and worked with the animals for a number of years, has learned how to raise them successfully and now has third generation opossums grown in captivity.

Various petroleum products, such as gasoline, kerosene and fuel oil, can be pumped successively through a single pipe line with little mixing occurring between them. Today, large shipments of these products are transported in this way, sometimes with several of the liquids consigned to different cities. The progress of the "train" is checked and relayed by stations along the line so that each engineer awaiting its arrival may be informed, an hour beforehand, the exact minute that he is to open and close his valves to remove his shipment.

Science is a first-rate piece of furniture for a man's upper chamber, if he has common sense on the ground floor.—Oliver W. Holmes.

Letters to the Editor

Aiding Shiftless

Editor, Bulletin—May I ask, through your column, when the Government is going to get busy about the old age pension? Why should there be a means test? Is it fair because a man has been thrifty and built his own little home he should be deprived of the pension? Then there's the man or couple who have wasted their money but get the pension without any trouble. If we own our own little cottage we are not eligible. We still have to eat and buy fuel, and, above all, pay taxes. After seventy how long has a person to live? Why not let them have the comfort of the pension while they can still enjoy it?

The money that is wasted on family allowance is a disgrace. It's not necessary and just encourages laziness. I live near people who receive at least twenty-eight dollars per month and as soon as the cheque arrives up comes the beer truck. The Government is doing a fine thing helping out shiftless people and letting old couples starve.

We had no family allowance and we raised our families and sent our sons off to fight for Canada. What return do we get? Men of sixty-five cannot find employment. England looks after her old people — forty dollars a month at sixty-five years of age and no means test. I don't think anyone will complain. Our Prime Minister did promise he would see old people were taken care of, but nothinng has

Rain Maker

Editor, Bulletin—The snow and drouth-ending rain, as outlined in press reports, was in an effort to bring rainfall to combat the forest fires in northern Alberta and Saskatchewan, caused by the operation of a rain-machine of my invention—(same machine having been the subject of many news items in the press at various times over a period of ten years—the power of which will produce an electro-magnetically-gravitational full on the moon as a medium to draw air currents, rain clouds, and rain from the Pacific Ocean and the Gulf of Mexico to areas in Saskatchewan and Alberta.

It is, in principle, applying gravity as a means of power to draw the rainfall from its source of origin, the sea, inland.

In this particular case concerned here the machine was set in operation to centre around the power of a full moon, when this moon was in a westerly direction from the place of operation of this machine at Regina.

If this effort served any useful purpose on the one hand; on the other hand there is to be taken into consideration the matter of grain that has not been harvested yet, and here is a picture that presents a case that must be viewed in an overall perspective.

In the past spring and summer this machine was operated at both Regina and Calgary in an effort to bring rains over as great an area of Saskatchewan and Alberta as the power of this machine, depending mainly on the time at my disposal for the purpose, would permit.

How High The Moon

Editor, Bulletin—In reply to "Regular Reader" on how high the moon.

I doubt if anyone can give the exact distance in miles. But follows as near as possible some information on the subject.

One light-year is nearly 6,000,000,000,000 miles, light travelling 186,000 miles per second.

The distance to the moon from the earth is 225,000 miles approximately.

The sun is estimated at 92,800,000 and 93,000,000 miles, with other distances between.

Speed of sound 700 m.p.h. approximately, or at sea level—761 m.p.h.; at 40,000 to 100,000 feet about 663 miles per hour.

Gasoline boils in the open at about 32,000 feet. Blood boils at normal temperature without adequate pressure at 63,000 feet.

While at 21,000 feet there is hardly enough oxygen to keep a candle burning.

In case Regular Reader is interested his friend would be nearest right at 300,000 miles if figures are correct.

ANOTHER READER.

Compulsory Voting

Editor, Bulletin—Just recently someone, with a true Hitlerian disposition, suggested that some means should be devised to impose a penalty on those who do not vote. Why does he want this? Is there any reason why a man can't object to all political parties? He has, if he wishes, sufficient reason for such an attitude for history proves that few political theories have bettered the lot of humanity.

Then, what if the party he supports is not running for office? Would it be consistent with good principles to vote for a political movement with which one disagrees? And, in this connection, what about the vaunted guarantee of freedom of conscience for all? Where would it come in? Perhaps your narrow-minded correspondent's scruples are not bothered at making a hypocrite of himself.

However, whether a man wants to vote or abstain from voting is his own business. Why force a man to vote contrary to his convictions? What good would that do? You would have, on paper, what would appear to be support but you certainly would not have it in reality. And, don't forget, that the government that would obtain office by that means would have it not by the will of the people but by coercion.

Coercion has never yet met with the popular approval of the people either under autocratic governments or under democracy. Democracy rules out coercion. The motivating cause for a vote should be the acceptable platform of the party running for office. Never under any circumstances should it be the threat of a penalty.

Old Dogs Can Learn New Tricks

Toward the end of the Hitler war, a smart young army doctor came to see me. He was about to return to civilian life and to set himself up as a specialist in the care of old people.

(They have some high faluting name for it which I can't remember and haven't the ambition to look up.)

He wanted me to write articles to stress the need for more organized activities for old people.

People were going to live longer—we could be absolutely sure of that, he said. And the purely medical end of how to care for them was the simplest part of the problem. Old folks had to have a place in life that made them feel that life was still worth living.

They Still Go to School

We talked about worthwhile activities for older folks. Most folks know about what they do at community centres. Churches, clubs and all sorts of organizations are taking an interest in this.

It certainly gives me a thrill to go to the night school and see people well up in years going in to take the various courses.

In my talk with the doctor I made a break which he immediately checked.

"You can't teach an old dog new tricks," I said, for all the world like any other Colonel Blimp.

"You can teach an old dog new tricks if the old dog wants to learn," the young expert replied.

There's Food For Thought

I have thought a lot about that in the years since that chat. I have thought how foolish it is for us just to accept these old sayings without question. Of course, most of those old folk sayings are partly true. But few of them are the whole truth.

Still I don't know whether or not you can teach an old dog new tricks. I would surely like to hear from readers as to whether you can or not.

But I do know you can teach old humans new things.

Not everything, of course. If you try to teach a really old person to do stunts which require the physical strength of youth then you are not only attempting the impossible, but are as big a fool as your pupil.

But old folks can learn all sorts of new handicrafts. If you still have eyes to read with, you are never too old to read the many great books that have been written. There are over 120 night school courses in our town alone.

Many Chances For Learning

And no matter where you live on the face of the earth, if you have postal facilities you can learn just about anything by mail. Just about anything, that is, that you would be competent to learn if you lived actually in a big city—and the thing you wanted to learn does not require machinery or on the spot demonstration.

In nearly every province in Canada the big universities have what we have in B.C.—namely, extension departments which give all sorts of lessons by mail. And in most cases the price is dirt cheap for the service rendered.

Talking about new courses, they are now talking of teaching Russian in the high schools of B.C. This is, of course, a good idea. For whatever we think of the present Russian regime, the Russians are and will remain one of the main branches of the human family. If only for our own self interest, we need vast numbers of people who know Russian.

Question Box

What makes flowers smell?—The fragrance in flowers is created by the evaporation of essential oils manufactured by the plant. Composed chiefly of carbon and hydrogen, these oils vaporize rapidly when exposed to the air at ordinary temperatures. Sunlight, darkness, moisture and temperature influence the amount of tiny fragrant oil particles the flower gives off. White flowers generally give more fragrance than colored ones. Due to certain volatile properties of the oils, some flowers, curiously, have a different smell at different times of the day.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

By Edwin P. Jordan, M.D.

Muscular Rheumatism Not Serious

Rheumatism is an old-fashioned name but even now there are some muscular aches and pains which cannot be blamed on any definite form of arthritis and for which muscular rheumatism is still the best label.

In many cases the muscular pains start suddenly and sometimes without any apparent reason. In such cases, if they do not disappear without treatment, a search has to be carried out for some distant source of infection, such as infected tonsils or abscessed teeth.

However, there is no single cause which can be picked out and it is often hard to point to any definite source of the trouble. Fortunately, the majority of the pains appear for a short time and then go away without leaving any harmful effects.

One Type Is Severe

One common type of muscular pain and aching is that which develops when a person has been sleeping or sitting in a drafty place. This can be most severe.

Occasionally someone wakes up with a muscular pain in the neck or shoulder, which makes turning the head impossible. Usually, however, this kind of rheumatism lasts for only a few hours or days.

Infections and toxic conditions are common sources of trouble. Muscular aching frequently follows a severe sore throat, influenza, rheumatic fever, and similar general diseases.

If muscular rheumatism keeps on and the cause cannot be discovered or, if discovered, cannot be treated satisfactorily, a great deal of discomfort and interference with normal activity occurs. When this happens several different types of treatment may have to be tried before relief can be obtained. Hot baths, carefully chosen exercises, and sometimes massage may be of benefit.

In long-lasting or chronic cases the use of pain-killing drugs may have to be considered. These must be taken with care and milder ones such aspirin are safer than strong ones. Liniments or ointments such as the old-fashioned mustard plaster will sometimes help but should not be used too long as they merely give relief while concealing a serious condition.

Few people go through life without having one or more bouts of muscular rheumatism. The fact that most of us have had such attacks and have recovered shows that this kind of trouble is not really as serious as true arthritis even though it is most uncomfortable at the time.

Ministers Approve Aid-to-Asia Plan

Spender Proposal Will Be Referred to Governments

LONDON, Oct. 6.—(Reuters)—Ministers of the British Commonwealth yesterday stamped approval on a huge British-version Marshall Plan for Asia.

Unofficial observers are certain the United States will be asked for heavy financial backing.

The plan, called the Spender Plan, after the Australian external affairs minister, Percy C. Spender, calls for spending $5,000,000,000 over a six-year period, to raise living standards for 570,000,000 people—a quarter of the world's population. The idea of the plan is to try to smother Communism in backward areas.

Agreement on the plan was announced today by the British treasury after a 10-day closed conference of ministers from seven British Commonwealth countries: Britain, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, India, Pakistan and Ceylon. Fisheries Minister R. W. Mayhew represented Canada.

The hemispheric spending-spree, likely to get under way in 1951, will benefit India, Pakistan, Ceylon and the British Territories of Malaya, Singapore, Sarawak and Borneo.

REFERRED BACK

The Spender Plan draft now will be referred back to the member governments for individual approval. They will have to decide how much money they can contribute.

Alaska Base Has Oilfields And Gas Well

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, Oct. 6.—(AP)—The United States Navy has discovered two more oil fields in its vast Point Barrow reserve at the top of the continent.

Cmdr. Millard Aubey, officer in charge of construction in Naval Petroleum Reserve No. 4, made the disclosure here today.

He said one field was in the northern part of the 35,000-square-mile reserve on the Arctic coast, and the other on the southeastern border.

Aubey emphasized that productive capacity of the wells has not been determined. He said the Navy has not made any major discovery of petroleum in commercial quantity which would be economically feasible to produce and transport from the remote areas in which they were found.

DEVELOPMENT SLOW

The last find reported by the Navy there was a gas well completed in April, 1949. Navy spokesmen have been persistently denying rumors of gushers in the reserve ever since the project started in August, 1944.

Preliminary surveys in the reserve have indicated that production of 100,000 barrels of crude oil a day would sustain the field commercially, but formidable problems presented by inaccessibility of the oil fields have prevented full-scale development of what some experts said held promise of being the largest untapped oil field in the world.

The trouble started last month when the Russians complained crew lists for West German canal craft were faulty.

3,404 Allied Troops Die In 31 Atrocities

U.S. 8th ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea, Oct. 6.—(UP)—An American spokesman said today that U.S. 8th Army investigators have verified 31 Communist atrocities in which 3,404 Americans and South Koreans were murdered.

Some Communists suspected of participating in the atrocities have been arrested and "more are being taken each day," the spokesman said. He added that investigators are using lie detectors in questioning the suspects.

The war criminals will be tried in a United Nations court in Korea under the precedents established in the German and Japanese war crimes trials at the end of the last war.

The United Nations commission on Korea was informed of the 8th Army's preliminary findings today and filed a report with UN Secretary General Trygve Lie condemning North Korean military authorities for permitting the murders.

TWO FALSE

"The commission condemns the complete disregard by North Korean authorities of civilized standards of behavior as well as the principles of the Geneva Convention despite assurances to the contrary," the report said.

Thirty-three cases of atrocities were reported to the 8th Army in all, but two proved to be false. Those verified ranged from the murder of prisoners by Communist guards at the Sochong-ni railroad station July 8 to the mass slaughter of 800 South Korean civilians, 40 American soldiers and 15 South Korean soldiers at Taejon on Sept. 27.

Police Cars Souped To Catch Juveniles

Pride of the Legion, Jack Moore Is Dead

WINNIPEG, Oct. 6.—(CP)—Jack Moore, a Canadian Legion institution for a quarter century, is dead.

The railway man who presided over every national Legion convention from 1925 on died Wednesday at Deer Lodge Military Hospital at the age of 69, a few weeks after his last convention.

Never more than a sergeant in military rank, he handled the big, often noisy gatherings of veterans with the poise of a general and the trenchant discipline of a sergeant-major.

Kindly, colorful, but firm, his "In my opinion, the ayes have it" became almost a hallmark of these biennial meetings of men from all over Canada.

The veterans loved him. His word was law, his humor legend.

Born Arthur Ernest Moore of Lewisham, England, he served in the Royal Navy from 1895 to 1904, saw service in the Boxer Rebellion in China and picked up the nickname Jack which stuck until his death. He came to Canada in 1910, joined the CNR and fought with the 44th Battalion in the First World War, suffering wounds at Vimy Ridge and at Rocklingcourt.

Father of a son and six daughters, all of Winnipeg, he was an influential figure in the Legion from its beginning to its present lusty state.

As national chairman, he presided not only over the conventions but over meetings of the Legion's Dominion executive council. Last year he brought his talents to the chair of the business sessions of the British Empire Service League conference in Ottawa.

At Saskatoon in 1948, they thought it was time to name a vice-chairman to spell old Jack, then retired as a railway man. But at Winnipeg last month he was back again, handling the big biennial show and making everybody love it.

But he won't be back again.

A copy of the first book illustrated with photographs is on display at George Eastman House in Rochester, N.Y. The book is "The Pencil of Nature," published by W. H. Fox Talbot in England in 1844.

Leslie Bell Singers Arrive On First Visit to Edmonton

Leslie Bell Singers, famed Toronto girls' choir, arrived in Edmonton today on the latest leg of their current tour of Canadian cities.

The choir, directed by Dr. Leslie R. Bell, will give a concert in the exhibition grounds Sales Pavilion tonight. They return to Edmonton for another concert, in MacDougall Church, next Friday, Oct. 13. The group never sang here before.

"This is a whirlwind tour. We've hardly had time to pause for breath," Dr. Bell stated, as he and 36 girls in the troupe stepped off a CNR train.

The group gave a concert in Saskatoon last night, then hurried to catch the Edmonton train. They return to Winnipeg tonight for a Saturday concert and their regular national radio broadcast Sunday evening.

FIRST FOR MOST

The girls are all residents of Toronto and vicinity, and this is the first trip to Alberta for most of them.

"We'd heard a lot of fine things about the oil capital. We hope to do some of the sights this afternoon in between some much-needed rest," one of the girls said.

A top-flight arranger, Dr. Bell scores his own music, tailors it to measure for the girls' voices.

The choir's range is tremendous. The girls sing in six and eight-part harmony, a unique feat for a girls' choir.

Arrangements of music by masters, folk songs of many countries, and semi-popular music are part of the choir's repertoir.

With Howard Cable's orchestra, the Bell group gained international fame on the Canadian General Electric Sunday broadcasts.

Travelling with the group here is A. K. Gee, Winnipeg, manager of Celebrity Concerts (Canada) Ltd., which sponsors the western tour.

JACOBY
on Canasta

One of the most important factors in a good partnership at Canasta is mutual confidence. Each partner assumes that the other one knows what he is doing at all times and that, when an unusual play is made, there must be a definite reason for it.

The following hand which John Crawford and Ted Lightner played together is a fine example.

Each side had melded out but no one had a canasta. Crawford and Lightner held fewer cards than their opponents and one of the opponents froze the discard pile.

The Crawford-Lightner team had only one base for a canasta. This was the meld of four sevens. Among other melds was one meld of three eights. After the pack was frozen, the player to Crawford's left discarded a couple of eights. A few rounds later, Crawford added a deuce to his meld of three eights.

At his next turn to play, Lightner added another deuce to the same eight meld. Then, when it got back to Crawford, he put down two eights making the canasta, and melded the rest of his cards, thereby ending the hand before the other side could do anything.

One of the spectators asked Teddy, "How did you know enough to add your deuce to the meld of eights when there were only three natural cards there?"

Lightner answered, "It was a cinch. Johnny's play of adding one deuce to the three eights told me that he thought that was our best place to make a canasta. Therefore, unless his play merely meant that he had suddenly gone nuts, he had to have two eights left in his hand. Any meld of that sort had to be a signal to me to add to the eights, so I just obeyed orders."

• • •

The spectator then asked Johnny, "Why do you put all that strain on your partner? Couldn't you have told him the same story without any possible misunderstanding by melding the two eights at the same time you melded the deuce?"

Johnny said, "Yes. But I couldn't be certain that my partner held a wild card. I might not be able to meld out at my next turn and the hand might develop in such manner that I might need the eights as discards later on. I knew Teddy would read my play without my drawing a diagram for him."

Turkey Supplies OK for Holiday

Price Range Bit Lower For This Thanksgiving Day

There is a plentiful supply of turkeys for Thanksgiving in Edmonton this year, with the price ranging a trifle lower.

City retailers are selling turkeys in a price range of about 57 to 62 cents.

Chickens, not too plentiful right now, are selling for about 49 to 53 cents per pound in Edmonton markets.

Alberta's turkey production is much greater than last year, according to Dominion government agriculture office here.

A total of 330,000 turkeys have been hatched in the province so far this year, this source said. Imports from other provinces are about 100,000 birds, a drop from 1949.

GRADES BETTER

Quality of turkeys is also improved. Grade A birds are heavier this year.

Edmontonians are assured of a good supply of fresh turkeys, while the stock of frozen birds is greater than last fall, a survey of large stores here reveals.

City Building Total Grows

Issue of more than $350,000 in building permits today shot the city's total past the $35,000,000 mark.

Alberta Co-operative Wholesale Association started the day off with a $185,000 permit for a new office and warehouse building at 11507 - 120 street. Fred H. MacDonald is architect and Dominion Construction is the contractor for the job.

S. Hrudey Construction was granted permits for 17 houses worth $132,500. They will be built in the 113 block on 53, 54 and 55 streets.

Steve Waylewski took out a $25,000 permit for a two-storey stores and apartment building at 10860 - 66A - 97 street.

Forest Fire Smoke Still Causes Damage

Smouldering ground fires today limited visibility to three-quarters of a mile at Fort Nelson, B.C., where big forest fires raged in the last week of September.

Other Peace River Block towns, both in British Columbia and Alberta, reported reduced visibility due to smoke. Some of it was drifting over Edmonton.

Small ground fires in the Rocky Mountain House district of east-central Alberta yesterday reduced visibility to four miles at Red Deer and Calgary.

The smoke travelled southeast to Medicine Hat where visibility was down to one mile for a short time.

But light snow over much of Southern Alberta dissipated the smoke haze today. Although visibility was low again at Calgary it was not due to smoke, the Dominion Meteorological Bureau in Edmonton reported.

J. L. Janssen, Alberta's chief timber inspector, said there are no running fires in the province. Ground fires were being dug out.

When some 100 fires were at their height in Northern Alberta and along the 300-mile southern end of the Alaska Highway in British Columbia they sent clouds of smoke thousands of miles to the east.

Convict Aid Society Plans Expansion

The average Edmontonian has little contact with the quiet workers of the John Howard society. But to inmates in local prisons it's a spark of light to a fresh start.

Recently appointed to head the rehabilitation movement in Edmonton, James Eakins, a 31-year-old ex-RCAF pilot from Toronto, said on arrival here that he is planning to make the Society more active in Edmonton.

"This bureau is comparatively new, having started in 1948, but with the very good co-operation we are getting from the institution authorities, we hope to do much more for the dischargees," he said.

The Society was formed in the 18th century by an Englishman named John Howard, who gave his life and fortune fighting conditions in Victorian prisons.

Today, the John Howard Society is active in Canada, British Isles, United States and South Africa.

Their objective is to resolve convicts' problems, such as supplying clothes, room and board until they get started working; transportation to their homes, tools for tradesmen and in some cases, jobs.

All's Not So Well In Communist China

Premier Admits Publicly Sabotage Hits Country

HONG KONG, Oct. 6.—(AP)—Chou En-Lai, Chinese Communist premier, has admitted publicly that all is not well in Red China.

The full import of his "policy statement" in Peking Oct. 1 was temorarily obscured by his attack on the United States an dhis warning against "aggression" on any of Red China's neighbors.

But further portions of his anniversary statement have just been released here by the official Communist China news agency. They show that guerrillas, sabotage and resistance to land measures are giving the Communist regime plenty of headaches.

Chou said flatly that the most important task for the regime in the next two years is consolidating control over "newly-liberated areas" where he estimated 200,000 anti-Communist guerillas are active.

This was far different from his speech a year ago, when he declared the country's No. 1 problem would be "economic improvement.

"China's second-fiercest class struggle," Chou said, "is putting across land reforms."

MANY ARRESTED

The premier and foreign minister declared this land-reform struggle was surpassed only by "the war of liberation"—China's civil war. Chou said some landlords have been sabotaging the program by giving away their land, killing livestock and destroying farm implements, houses, crops and trees.

He indirectly conceded that farmer and landlord opposition is strong enough to force a slowing up of land redistribution in "newly-liberated areas."

Chou reported 4,000 "secret agents" have been arrested, 170 secret radio stations seized and 11 cases of "international espionage" unearthed in the last year. He did not elaborate on the "international espionage."

Forgetful Woman Killed by Gas

LONDON, Oct. 6—(AP)—Twelve times forgetful Mrs. Ellen Pond, 67, turned on her gas stove without lighting it. Twelve times an upstairs neighbor smelled gas and came to her rescue.

The 13th time, the neighbor was away. Returning an accidental-death verdict, the coroner said Mrs. Pond apparently had little or no sense of smell.

CIVIL SERVANTS SEEK 40-HOUR WORK WEEK

A 40-hour five day work week was advocated by the Civil Service Association Branch Six, Provincial Mental Institute, meeting here Wednesday.

Other resolutions passed by the annual meeting requested a better standard of conditions for the nursing staff at the mental institute and recognition by the Alberta Registered Psychiatric Association; equal pay for male and female employes of the institute. The resolutions will be submitted to the Civil Service Association of Alberta convention in Red Deer next month.

W. Raistrick was elected chairman of the civil service group; W. Allanach was named vice-chairman; G. C. Hall, secretary; Mr. Riastrick, F. Wright and Mr. Hall were named convention delegates and Mrs. F. Wright was nominated for the provincial executive. George Grandbois is press correspondent.

Village Assault Case Goes to High Court

Jasper Place resident Albert James was committeed for Supreme court trial on charges of assault causing bodily harm and assault with intent to wound, and trial of Ted Randall, facing the same charges, adjourned for one week by Magistrate R. E. Cunningham in Jasper Place police court yesterday.

James pleaded not guilty. Randall did not enter a plea.

Charges against the two accused are being pressed by E. M. Sager, 9543-150 street, another village resident.

Sager was found lying unconscious near the front of his Jasper Place home on night of June 2, this year. He told police next day he had been beaten by two men in a fracas in front of his residence.

Interviewed in hospital Sager said at first that the assailants were strangers to him. Later he named James and Randall as the men who had beaten him after "some liquor" had been consumed.

Medical evidence given before Magistrate Cunningham yesterday showed Sager had suffered broken ribs and other injuries "caused by blows" and that he had spent five weeks in hospital after the alleged assault.

Jasper Place police chief Lawrence Kenney told of visiting the spot where Sager was discovered lying unconscious by his 16-year-old son about 12 p.m., June 3, and finding blood and broken glass in front of house where Randall and James lived, near the Sager home.

ADJOURNED A WEEK

In his evidence Yager claimed he was the victim of "unprovoked attack."

He was represented by Edmonton lawyer W. J. Beaumont. The accused Randall was granted the week's adjournment to provide himself with counsel.

Model Bungalow Open to Public

Cottage-Styled Roof, Cedar Walls Are Features

A model of modern home-building, the bungalow built by Sherwin Construction Co. at 11226-73 avenue, is officially open for public inspection today.

Five months under construction, the 39 by 32 foot building, with its cottage-style roof and walls of overlapping cedar siding, features the latest in building design.

The model bungalow is located in a budding residential area on the south side, a few blocks from 109 street in a new crescent lined with modern houses.

NO EFFORT SPARED

Sherwin Construction Co. spared no efforts to make this a regular "dream house."

The ground floor of the bungalow has a spacious living room, dining room, kitchen, two bedrooms and a bathroom. The full basement, with 8-foot cement foundation, contains a rumpus room, a bedroom, shower bath, utility room and furnace room.

Interior door features plastered walls painted in various pastel shades of blue, yellow, pink, peach and turquoise. Floors in living room, dining room and upstairs bedrooms are in No. 1 oak. Kitchen and bathroom floors are covered with linoleum while basement floors are in tile.

Outside appearance of the building is equally attractive and unique.

COLOR SCHEME

Bottom half of the walls is in 1¼ inch cedar siding, with a top half made of sylva cord and knotty pine.

Color scheme of the walls and roof, the latter covered with asphalt shingles, is in contrasting shades of dark brown.

Five picture windows, with an overall measurement of 11 feet by 5 feet, provide the living room light. The windows are in an offset at the front of the house.

There are six other windows on the main floor, with windows in the two bedrooms built high above the floor, to permit better furniture planning.

A corridor leads from the front door to the back with archways leading into the living room and dining room. A third archway opens from the kitchen to the dining room.

Solid Comfort In Model Home

Three Firms Pool Efforts To Supply Furnishings

Solid comfort. That's the way to describe the interior furnishings of Sherwin Construction Co.'s model bungalow at 11226-73 avenue.

Three Edmonton firms, National Home Furnishers Ltd., J. A. Werner Hardware Ltd., and Naylor's Draperies have pooled their efforts to supply the most modern furnishings for this "dream home."

The cosy 23 by 13 foot living room reflects the comfortable atmosphere of the whole house with its Kroehler chesterfield set, in soft shades that match with the pastel blue wall finish.

OAK FLOORS

Broadloom rugs accentuate the luxury of the room's oak floors.

Two bedrooms on the ground floor are equipped with satin-smooth walnut furniture. Beds are of Hollywood style, with woolen blankets in brilliant shades.

Tables and chairs in the dining room are in bleached mahogany, and the floor is covered with a lovely carpet of figured broadloom.

Draperies and curtains in all the rooms are in various shades patterned with the blue, yellow, pink and peach pastel finish of the walls. The downstairs rumpus room gives an added touch with its curtains in Mexico design.

A General Electric automatic range will fill the kitchen needs, and extra-large refrigerator assures the home-owner of top food protection.

Fluorescent lights give the kitchen and dining room perfect lighting. Floor and desk lamps, of different sizes, have been installed to supply lighting in the bedrooms and living room.

Spirit River Names Slate

SPIRIT RIVER, Oct. 6—B. Russell of Wanham was elected president of Spirit River school division at their annual convention here last week.

Other officers include: vice-president, S. Farwell, Spirit River; secretary-treasurer, Sister Faye, Rycroft; press, J. Parks, Spirit River; councillors, Miss E. Fildes, Spirit River, and Mrs. H. Zmean, Wanham; director of field service, Miss Fildes.

Three sub-locals were organized for the Spirit River-Rycroft, Wanham, Tangent and Blueberry Creek areas.

E. Sather, chairman of the board of trustees, traced the development of the division during his time in office. He mentioned that annual expenditures had risen from $80,000 to more than $200,000 during this time.

Con Game Backfires

A confidence game which worked for $175 sent Allen J. B. Ross, Prince George, to prison for three months yesterday.

Victims of his two bad cheques was N. J. Pepin, proprietor of Pepin and Son, 10050-105 street. They were to represent "expense money" for Ross who had contracted to buy a $6,949 organ from Pepin.

Ross contacted Pepin last Sept. 18, said he represented a group of Prince George businessmen and arranged on their behalf to purchase the organ for a Prince George church.

The group of Prince George businessmen was later found to be non-existent as was the $6,949 Ross had undertaken to pay.

But in the meantime, he told Pepin he had run short of money and asked him to endorse two cheques for $100 and $75 for him. Things were finally straightened out by Detective Jack Cookson, who testified against Ross today.

Magistrate S. G. Main sentenced the accused to concurrent three-month terms on the false pretences charges.

Garneau Group Elects Officers For Next Year

Election of officers for 1950-51 was order of business at Garneau Community league meeting Wednesday night, but little change was made in the slate of directors.

Duncan Innis was returned to the presidency while Art. Wilson kept the vice-president's chair.

Secretary Mrs. Betty Bishop and treasurer H. Story were also reinstated in their respective positions.

Various committees were elected to handle the affairs of the league and delegates to the federation of community leagues were appointed

Fire Damages Phone Office

STROME, Oct. 6—Fire caused by a short circuit in electrical wiring damaged living quarters of the Alberta Telephone Company office here late Sunday evening.

Although Strome lacks fire fighting equipment, quick action on the part of citizens with fire extinguishers brought the blaze under control before too much damage was done.

The rooms are occupied by Mr and Mrs. R. Robbins and family who are in charge of the telephone switchboard and Alberta Treasury branch office here.

Investment Chief Sees the West As Big Centre

Eastern business leaders feel that the centre of Canada's "economic gravity" may be moving to the west.

This was stated here yesterday by Peter Kilburn, president of the 332-firm Investment Dealers' Association of Canada.

A former graduate of the University of Alberta, Lloydminster-born Mr. Kilburn is vice-president of Greenshields and Co. Inc., investment dealers of Montreal and Toronto.

In Edmonton, the association official met with R. T. Morgan, Wood-Gundy representative in Edmonton and vice-chairman of the Alberta district section of the association.

Association Meets

INNISFREE, Oct. 6—First meeting of the Young People's Association was held in the United Church with several members attending.

A weiner roast was planned while the election of officers was postponed till a later date.

Some Civic Costs Climb Faster Than Population

Operating costs of some civic departments are rocketing much faster than the corresponding percentage increase in population.

Mayor Sid Parsons yesterday released comparative figures on four major departments, showing increases in operating costs over five and 10-year periods.

Fire department operating cost in 1945 was $264,958. This year it is $615,000. Next year the increase will be even greater, as the city endeavours to bring the fire fighting force up to strength recommended by both the O'Connor report and findings of Western Canada Fire Underwriters' Association.

Police operating costs have risen from $231,000 in 1945 to $500,000 this year.

SCHOOL COSTS

Public school operation cost $1,583,000 in 1945, but this year the bill is $2,959,000. "And it is only reasonable to expect that, as a result of the current tremendous school building program, the bill will be further increased another $800,000, to $1,000,000 next year," said Mayor Parsons.

Seperate school costs have jumped from $232,000 in 1945 to $467,000 this year.

In the period between 1940 and this year, operating and maintenance costs of the city's engineer's department have jumped from $495,000 to $1,167,000.

During the 10-year period, Edmonton's population has risen approximately 52 per cent, the mayor said.

"I'd like to point out that, during the period from 1941 to 1949 we have paid for $1,700,000 worth of capital public works out of current revenues—at the same time maintaining the 49.5 mill rate since 1943."

'No Left Turn' Signs Installed On Jasper

"No left turn" signs have been installed at Jasper and 100 street, and Jasper and 102 street.

Police are checking motorists who fail to notice them, preparatory to soon clamping down with five dollar fines for violators, according to civic officials.

Market for Oil From Sands Probed

Market possibilities of Alberta's rich oil sands near McMurray were being discussed yesterday by the Oil Sands Board of Trustees.

Conferring with the officials is S. A. Blair, consulting petroleum engineer, who is making a survey of market availabilities of the oil sands for the provincial government.

Yankees Favored to Win Series in Four Straight

By Jack Sullivan
Canadian Press Staff Writer

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 6.—(CP)—Robin Roberts, Phillies' baby-faced $65,000 bonus kid, knows that if a walk doesn't kill you, Joe DiMaggio will.

The finest righthand pitcher to wear the red-and-white Philadelphia uniform since the lush days of old Grover Cleveland Alexander (at least that's what the Phils' publicity man says) learned his lesson the hard way yesterday.

In brief, the 24-year-old with the twisted smile and fidgety mound mannerisms, lost to New York Yankees 2-1 when he:

Walked Yankee second baseman Gerry Coleman in the second inning—and Gerry came in with Bombers' first run on two successive singles and; when he dished up a ball that DiMaggio liked so much he planted it in the upper deck, far out in left field.

PAID IT BACK

But the 190-pound six-foot-two hurler has earned that $65,000 Bob Carpenters's Phils gave him to sign a couple of years ago. He pitched them into the club's first World Series in 35 years by beating Brooklyn last Sunday.

Robin did a man-sized job, and even the most rabid Philly fan in this subdued town is ready to admit he won't see another ball game at Shibe Park this year.

The clubs pick up their fight at New York today and tomorrow, and opinion here is that the Bombers will win the best-of-seven series in four straight.

That, of course would leave Carpenter's Whiz Kids out in the cold and add another chapter to the Yankee saga. If Yanks do it, it will be the ninth World Series to end in the minimum number of games.

GOLIAT THE GOAT

Nomination for yesterday's goat's role goes to Mike Goliat, the once-loved Toronto Maple Leaf third baseman (he watches the second sack for the Phils) who is showing why he ended the season with an unimpressive .234 batting average.

Mike muffed a great chance to wear the hero's mantle in the last of the ninth (two on and one out) but he hit into a double play, forcing extra play—and one more time at bat for the Yankee Clipper.

Yankee Murderers' Row of mighty mite Phil Rizzuto, Yogi Berra, DiMaggio and Johnny Mize, looked like a bunch of chumps—until DiMag's homer. They were as powerful with the stick as a defused bomb.

Esks Face Fight To Retain 1st Place

WINNIPEG, Man., Oct. 6—(BUP)—Western Conference football clubs face a bruising thanksgiving weekend, with all four games scheduled and a change in the league leadership a strong possibility.

Games will be played here and at Regina, with the league-leading Edmonton Eskimos meeting Saskatchewan's Roughriders tomorrow and clashing with Winnipeg Blue Bombers Monday.

Les Lear's Stampeders, a ghost of the team that won the Grey cup in 1948 and went to the National Final last year, will meet the Blue Bombers in Winnipeg tomorrow and go to Regina Monday.

Stamps, fighting to keep their playoff hopes alive so far have won only two games for a total of four points. Eskimos hold top spot in the Conference with seven wins and 14 points. Winnipeg has chalked up six victories and 12 points but has played one game less than the Edmonton club.

Regina is in third place with eight points. Riders have played the same number of games as the Bombers.

One cheerful spot in the Blue Bomber outlook was the fact that they had yet to lose a home game this season, in addition to their record of two wins to one loss over the Edmonton club.

The Eskimos took the last game between the two clubs with a 13-0 decision last Monday at Edmonton. Winnipeg lost once to Calgary and Edmonton dropped one to Regina.

Clemo Loses To Almond

VANCOUVER, Oct. 6 (CP)—Frankie Almond, Canadian featherweight King, last night took a close-cut, split decision from Joey Clemo, Portland, Ore., in the 10-round main event of a boxing card here.

Almond, at 127½ pounds, was given a six-point advantage by one judge and one point by referee Hec McDonald.

Clemo, at 131, was awarded a four-point margin by the second judge. There were no knockdowns in what proved a better boxing than slugging match.

Ray Barry Reports Back To Flyer Training Camp

Ray Barry, reported signed earlier in the week by Hershey Bears of the American league, was back in training with the Flyers last ngiht.

Barry, last season with Sherbrooke, in the Quebec league, arrived back from the east yesterday.

The onetime Maple Leaf and Capitol performer in city junior circles had attended the opening Flyer drills, then reported to the Boston training camp at Hershey.

REACHED AN AGREEMENT

Understanding at the time of his departure for the east was that he would return here to line up with manager Frank Currie's Edmonton entry in the Western Canada Hockey loop.

His status with the powers-that-be, meaning the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association and the National Hockey league, is shrouded in doubt at this end.

Barry assured Currie last night that he had "signed nothing."

At the same time it's known that the 22-year-old pivot has not yet secured his release from Sherbrooke. Wednesday there was a report out of Sherbrooke to the effect that Barry would be granted a release "only on condition that he turn professional."

What the Boston-Hershey-Tulsa chain 'has on' Barry is the fact that he has signed a 'B' form with the organization. Broadly speaking he could be compelled to sign a professional contract if terms offered him are considered fair and just.

There was one report last night to the effect that already Barry stands suspended. In the meantime Flyers will work to secure outright claim to his services, starting with a release from Sherbrooke.

The Curriemen took it a little easier, following their two exhibition wins over Portland Eagles.

They'll go right back at it again tonight, in preparation for the third game on their exhibition schedule against Spokane Flyers, at the Gardens, Monday.

High School Cagers Under EBA Wing

High school basketball finally has consented to come under the wing of the Edmonton Basketball association for the coming season.

Members of the EBA were informed at their annual organization meeting last night that high school leagues had decided to come into the fold, along with the other affiliated city leagues.

Among the business being discussed last night was the announcement that Jack Reilly of the Recreation Committee will be holding a basketball school. Fundamentals will be stressed and films shown. This is scheduled to open October 19.

Plans also are being completed for a referee school, to be held at the Recreation building next Thursday, at 8:30 p.m.

Three league directors were named last night. Harry Williams will take over the senior women's, Bob Strother the senior men's and Father Wagner the junior men's.

Final registration date for the senior women's and juvenile men's is set for October 13th. October 20th is closing date for senior and junior men.

Registration forms can be procured from A. D. Callaway by phoning 22046.

The senior women's league has already ben completed. Teams are: Mortons, A & N Pats, Walk-Rites CYO, A & N Starlets and Varsity Pandas.

EBA officials are contacting the Alberta association for sanction of their constitution.

On the list of special attractions for this fall will be an appearance of Chicago's Vagabond Kings, a six man travelling team, late in November.

Dale Main, EBA prexy, was in the chair last night.

Dominion Swin Record Broken

VANCOUVER, B.C., (BUP)—Roy Crane of Vancouver set a new Canadian swimming record for the 50 yard junior butterfly sprint when he covered the distance in 30 seconds flat in a time trial at Vancouver's Crystal Pool.

The Vancouver Amateur Swimming club star clipped a full second off the previous record last night.

Richard Sparkles

PROVIDENCE, R.I., Oct. 6 (AP)—Maurice Richard, all-star right winger of Montreal Canadiens drilled home two goals in less than two minutes last night to lead the NHL team in downing American Hockey league's Providence Reds 4-1 in an exhibition game.

Paul Masnick opened scoring after 10 minutes and Richard banged in his pair near the end of the last period.

Ken Davies scored on a pass from Donat Deschenes for Reds' goal midway in the second period.

FAN FARE

Canadiens Sign Roly McLenahan

MONTREAL, Oct. 6—(CP)—Managing director Frank Selke of Montreal Canadiens, yesterday announced acquisition of Roly McLenahan from Hershey Bears of the American Hockey league in exchange for defenceman Ray Garepy.

KINDRED, KAMAROFF IN MAT MAIN

It will be finesse versus brawn in the headline offering on promoter Al Oeming's rasslin' card at the Stock Pavilion Tuesday.

Don Kindred, a smoothie of the mat game, has drawn rough, tough Ivan Kamaroff in the main exhibition of the evening. Kindred rapidly is winning a following for himself in these parts, while the Hate — Kamaroff movement grows apace.

All Bey vs. Bob Lortie, Earl Malone vs. Steve Gob, and Stan Dusek vs. Lefty Pacer complete the card.

'Pug' Young Reported Through With Flyers

Harvey (Pug) Young may have reached the end of the trail as a Flyer. The big defenceman, chosen on the Western Canada Hockey league all-stars last season, failed to turn up for practice last night.

It's known that Young was dissatisfied over the fact that he had not been used in the two exhibition games played Tuesday and Wednesday against Portland Eagles.

According to Flyer manager Frank Currie, "He (Young) just sort of walked out on us. And I guess that's it."

For the past several seasons, the 215-pound bouncer has experienced considerable trouble getting down to playing weight. However, once in shape, he came to be looked upon generally as the cornerstone of the Flyer defence.

In this day of rough-and-ready hockey exchanges, Young was in his element. He asked no quarter, certainly gave none.

A product of the Edmonton Athletic Club puck chain, he has played with Flyers since the WCHL was revived in the fall of 1945.

Carpenter Bankroll: $40,000,000

World Series facts the boys on the scene may not get around to digging up: Bob Carpenter, owner of the Phaltering Phillies, is rated in the $40,000,000 class. In the seven years since acquiring the Phils' franchise he has paid out (a) $750,000 for bonus players, (b) $2,000,000 for talent.

MEYER

Phillies' temperamental righthander Russ Meyer is a chronic springtime sufferer from osteochondritis. Condition is caused by a thickened cartilage that flakes off in his pitching arm.

Yanks' Tommy Henrich, who is experting the series for a New York paper, isn't the only balltosser-turned-fourth-estater basking in the press-box limelight. Stan Baumgartner, one of the official scorers, is a former major league hurler. . . . Yankee Stadium has had a face-lifting since the 1949 series. Among the additions is a new press-box, supplanting the eye-sore that earned so many derogatory remarks in the past.

★ ★ ★ ★

Joe Coleman, second-sacker of the New Yorkers, is equally adept at shortstop, could take over there if anything happened to Rizzuto.

★ ★ ★ ★

Dick Wakefield, who joined the Yankees by purchase from the White Sox in the spring, finished off at Oakland, in the Pacific Coast circuit. He might have cut himself in for a World Series share had he been willing to bear down.

Mel Allen, announcing the games via radio, made reference during the first contest to Yogi Berra's "insurance story," only to let it go at that. He might have had the following in mind.

HENRICH

The ubiquitous Berra was a staunch holdout last spring, one who refused to budge until he got his price. When he finally joined his mates at the spring camp of the Yanks, one of his mates joshed him with:

"Now that you've got all the money on this ball club, what are you going to do with it?"

Berra grinned slyly. "Put it in annuties," he replied.

The announcement was greeted with a chorus of boos.

"They're no good. You've wasted all that dough," the heckling went on.

"That's what you think," Yogi still smiled happily. "When I die I get $75,000."

★ ★ ★ ★

Willie Jones' wife doesn't like that "Puddinhead" nickname the Phils' third-sacker is tagged with. Doesn't think it dignified.

Among the Phils who served a portion of their minor league apprenticeship with Toronto Maple Leafs are Mike Goliat, Bubba Church, "Putsy" Caballero and Stan Lopata. . . . Vic Rischi, Yank righthander who blanked the National league champs 1-0 in the opening game, got off to a horrible start last spring. First time he faced a major league club—the Washington Senators, in this case—he was tagged for seven runs on four hits, six bases-on-balls and a hit batsman.

★ ★ ★ ★

Dick Sisler, hitting goat of the first two games, was a star hurdler in high school.

★ ★ ★ ★

Before Phils were renamed the Whiz Kids they went by the handle of Candy Kids. They've also been known as Blue Jays. . . . Last year Joe Page's supporters were firm in their belief that he should have been voted at least two series splits. Wonder how those same boosters would pay off the former Yank relief ace this time? Page won three, lost five during the regular run. His salary: $35,000.

★ ★ ★ ★

Joe Medwick, the old St. Louis Card outfielder, was rated the best bad-ball hitter in modern times. Yep, he's Yogi Berra's inspiration. . . . Ed Ford, freshman southpaw of Yanks, was at Binghampton, in Class A ball last season.

Bob Carpenter made all that money in such things as munitions, celanese and nylon.

Coaches Aces

CHICOUTIMI, Que., Oct 6—(CP)—Roland Rossignol, 29, veteran winger who saw service with Quebec Aces, Providence Reds and Detroit Red Wings, has become coach of Jonquiere Aces of the Saguenay Senior Hockey league. A leg fracture forced him back into the minors.

FLASHY fielding of New York Yankees' keystone pair of second-baseman Jerry Coleman, above, and shortstop Phil Rizzuto, has played prominent part in Bombers' success to date in World Series.

AND RUNS, TOO

Winless Phils Look for Hits

By Ralph Bernstein

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 6—(AP)—You can't win swinging like hitless wonders in the clutch, is the way skipper Eddie Sawyer yesterday summed up the World Series failure of his Philadelphia Phillies.

In a sleeveless red sweat shirt, Sawyer sat in his tiny clubhouse office and tried to figure out what's wrong with his National league champions at the bat.

They have scored but 10 runs in their last 56 innings of baseball, including one in the pair of series games lost to New York Yankees.

"We got our only run thanks to a bad bounce over Gerry Coleman's head at second base. It looks like we need four bases on balls to score.

"Well, there is one solace, we can't be any worse in the Yankee Stadium. Maybe our kids will snap out of it. One thing I'm sure of, they won't let any stadium scare them. We'll play our usual game and score some runs, I hope."

The Whiz Kids weren't blaming anybody but themselves for yesterday's 2-1 10 inning loss. Field captain Granny Hamner, the pepperpot shortstop was plain disgusted.

"We helped Vic Raschi out in the first game by swinging at a lot of bad balls. We did the same thing again today but not as much. At least we had lots of opportunities to drive home some runs but somehow we have become allergic to that home plate."

Hamner had a triple, double and walk and played his usually fine game afield.

SISLER FUMING

Dick Sisler came out of the shower still fuming about the last called strike he took with his bat on shoulder to end the game

"That last pitch was high and inside and while I motioned to hit it, I didn't break my wrist But umpire Bill McGowan said I swung He has the last word, but I think he missed that one."

Losing pitcher Robin Roberts didn't feel like talking to anybody. He told reporters: "It was a belt-high fast ball straight down the middle that Joe DiMaggio hit for the homer that won the game. It was a good pitch that went bad."

Talking about Roberts' pitching performance, Sawyer said he thought the ex-Michigan State collegian did a swell job. "No, I never planned on taking him out unless we had the winning runs set up and I had to go for a pinch hitter."

DiMag Blow Lifts Yanks

By Ted Smits

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 6—(AP)—Even the impassive, haughty New York Yankees got excited yesterday after downing Phillies 2-1 on Joe DiMaggio's 10th inning homer.

Joe DiMaggio actually broke into a smile when asked after the game if this was the most important home run he ever hit in a World Series.

"It sure was," he said.

"I thought it was a low, inside slider, the ball I hit," he said. "Course he (Robin Roberts) will probably say it was something else. They always do. But it looked like a low inside slider to me. I went down with it.

"Roberts is everything they say he is. I haven't hit a ball on the ground in this series yet—all up in the air—and one into the bleachers. The big one."

"Yes sir, I'm glad that one's over," said pitcher Allie Reynolds, joining in the back-slapping.

Casey Stengel, stern-faced Yankee manager, called the game a "dandy."

★ ★ ★

Today, Ed Lopat will pitch for the Yanks at Yankee Stadium, and tomorrow it might be Whitey Ford, Stengel indicated.

"Gonna win it now in four straight?" someone cased Casey.

"No sir, I didn't say that. The Phils play good ball. They play hard. All their pitchers are great. When the other guys are pretty good I don't lie about it. I give 'em credit. There have been four great pitching performances — two on each side—in two days."

The Yankees acted like kids that unexpectedly found a dollar bill—surprised and happy.

★ ★ ★

Reynolds, with a wry smile, confessed to a pitching error

"When they got that run on Richie Ashburn's fly ball in the fifth I meant to throw a fast ball, but I sure didn't mean to make it fast and away from him so he could hit it like he did."

Phil Rizzuto, Yankee shortstop, contrasted Robin Roberts, with Jim Konstanty, Wednesday's pitcher.

"Roberts had plenty," said Phil "Roberts' fast ball overpowers you. He has the easiest motion for throwing a fast ball I have ever seen. The ball just naturally hops Konstanty's fast ball sinks—just the opposite of Roberts'."

Canuck Grappler Loses in Hurry

TEL AVIV, Oct. 6—(CP)—Maxie Ordman, deaf-and-dumb wrestler from South Africa, won the light-heavyweight title at the All-Jewish World Olympics last night, beating Max Ander of Canada.

Ander, a Toronto grappler, was beaten in 34 seconds

In the heavyweight class, Henry Wittenberg, New York detective who won the 191-pound title at the 1948 Olympic Games, won the title by default when the only other competitor in that class, Freddie Oberlander of Canada, withdrew because of illness.

Oberlander, a Montrealer, is manager and captain of the whole Canadian team. Cause of his illness was not known.

Ander lost to Oberlander in the Canadian Maccabiah trials for the 191-pound class, but the rating committee thought so highly of his performance that he was given a spot on the team.

Ponder Scratched

NEW YORK, Oct. 6 — (AP) — Trainer Jimmy Jones of Calumet Farm announced yesterday that Ponder would pass up the $50,000 Jockey Club Gold Cup Saturday at Belmont because of a coughing spell.

Noor, Hill Prince, Bed O' Roses and other turf stars are expected to compete in the two-mile event.

SAW ARAGON-DAVIS FIGHT

Fight Promoter Jack Berry Back From California Trip

'Jittery Jack' Berry, local fight promoter, who has been taking in the sights of Los Angeles and environs, is back on what passes for Jacobs Beach in these parts.

While in the land of oranges, cheesecake and 'B' pictures, matchmaker-promoter Berry took in the Art Aragon-John L. Davis fight for the California lightweight title.

Davis decisioned the onetime Golden Boy in what Berry described as a "real battle."

As well the Edmonton promoter sat in on a number of baseball games at Gilmore Stadium in Hollywood, and saw an ice show.

Regarding 'his' boy, George Dunn, Berry confirmed that the Hartford, Conn., Negro who has been fighting out of Edmonton of late, had won a decision, lost another in two California bouts.

Dunn caught the nod over Lou Williams, Kansas City lightweight, then dropped a decision to Johnny Gonzales.

Resin-dust: Berry talked business with such fighters as Joey Clemo and Joey Valez, both lightweights, and light-heavyweights Grant Butcher and Tony Bosnick. . . . "There's more fighters down there than yuh c'n shake a stick at," he said.

Word has reached the city that Al Marotti fresh from a string of four successive wins in the New York area, has received his draft notice from the U.S. Army.

Marotti, whose home is in Youngstown, Ohio, made a great favorite of himself while performing hereabout, up until six months ago. . . . Berry expects George Dunn to return here shortly.

Personnel of the Bert Robinson all-family rink of Jasper will be as follows: skip, Bert Robinson; Bill Robinson, Don Robinson and Sandy Robinson.

Oct. 21, at 12:00 midnight, is the deadline for entries. Entries may be mailed to 10750-100 street, Edmonton.

There were 79 deaths from 786 cases of diphtheria in Canada in 1949.

'Hat Holds First Hockey Practice

MEDICINE HAT, Alta.—Oct. 6—(CP) — More than 30 hopefuls, representing 11 western centres, turned out yesterday for Medicine Hat Tigers' first hockey practice of the season.

Among them were six classy Edmonton Juveniles, four signed players from St. Boniface, Man., and 11 newcomers.

Holdovers Dal Diebold of Claresholm and 'Buddy' Neen and Len Haley of Edmonton, have signed Tiger contracts for the 1950-51 Western Canada Junior Hockey league season.

Cam Smith Feuds With Portlanders

Hockey-referee Cam Smith has a big beef with management of Portland Eagles.

And all because he tried to do the Portlanders a favor—prior to their game with Flyers at the Gardens Tuesday—and earned nothing but abuse.

Smith, who is an accomplished skate sharpener when working with 'his own' equipment, agreed after considerable urging on the part of the Coast leaguers to sharpen their skates.

At the same time he warned them he was not familiar with the sharpener in use at the Gardens. "I'll let you examine the first pair when they're finished," he told coach Tony Hemmerling. "Then you can decide for yourself."

HE WARNED THEM

So Smith, who had gone to the Gardens in the first place to fill the role of referee, and nothing else, dutifully did what he could with the strange sharpener, then had the Portland board of strategy pass judgment.

"Swell . . . great . . . go ahead. Do the rest," they urged him. So Smith went to work and sharpened 14 pairs of skates in less than 30 minutes.

Were the Portlanders happy once they tried the skates? Not much. In fact they weren't even appreciative. They had nasty things to say about the sharpening. And this is what rubbed Smith the wrong way.

As he explained it yesterday "I wouldn't mind so much if I hadn't warned them I was unfamiliar with the sharpener at the Gardens."

SHARPENER FOR QUAKERS, CAPS

Among his regular customers are members of the Regina Caps and Saskatoon Quakers, a pair of Western Canada Hockey league teams that put in here from time to time during the season.

"I guess if I can sharpen skates for those fellows I know what I'm doing," Smith reasons.

'Peg Betting Off Slightly

WINNIPEG, Oct. 6—(CP)—Race fans bet $4,270,010 at the spring and fall racing meets at Winnipeg's Polo Park and this gave the Manitoba government $420,045 in tax revenue, a treasury official said yesterday.

Total bets were slightly lower than in 1949, but returns from the government's 25 per cent amusement tax on admission tickets were higher, the official said.

Last year bets totalled $4,286,978 at the two meets.

Leftists Lose In Finn Vote

HELSINKI, Oct. 6—(AP)—Nearly complete figures from Finland's local government elections today gave the Right and Centre parties the majority of the total vote.

Preliminary figures had previously given them only the majority of seats in city and country councils, while the vote majority had been with the Socialists and Communists.

The change was caused by returns from the Aaland Islands, which voted two days later than the rest of the country.

With only a dozen small election districts uncounted, preliminary figures issued today gave the Right and Centre parties 742,832 votes as against 706,556 for the Socialists and Communists.

INNISFREE, Oct. 6—Public inspection here of a travelling trunk containing Arts and Crafts by Alberta artists was made possible by the Women's Institute of Innisfree. It was displayed in the High School Auditorium.

West Berlin Papers to Give News to East

BERLIN, Oct. 6 — (AP) — West Berlin is erecting a giant electric bulletin board to flash news from the western world to the Soviet sector of the divided city.

The project, conceived by the West Berlin Publishers Association, will probably be completed toward the end of next week.

The board, containing 2,000 electric bulbs to illuminate the news bulletins, is atop three 100-foot high towers. It stands astride Potsdamer Platz, famed trouble spo where the Russian, American and British sector borders meet.

Russians Import Chinese Workers

BERLIN, Oct. 6—(AP)—The west Berlin newspaper Der Tag claims today that Russia has imported 500 Chinese to mine newly-discovered uranium deposits in Polish-occupied lower Silesia.

The newspaper says the uranium was found in large quantities in the Eltenberg area. It adds that the Chinese were brought in because they could preserve secrecy better than Polish workers.

Der Tag also asserts that 20,000 Chinese are expected to be settled in Silesia by the end of this year as cheap labor for Polish-operated coal mines and lumber camps.

Cadet Squadron Starts Season

WETASKIWIN, Oct. 6—Wetaskiwin Air Cadet Squadron is away to a good start for another season under the command of F.O. B. J. Blundell and adjutant Bill McMurdo.

MAGIC MONEY

Still Two $20 Bills Waiting To Be Claimed

And then there were two.

That's the number of $20's still remaining in the Bulletin's "magic" money game.

Third $20 of an original stake of $100 was collected Wednesday by Alex Rafferty, Ste. 3, Arcade Bldg., when he brought a one-dollar bill bearing serial number H-M 8305645 into the Bulletin office.

At that he just got under the wire because H-M 8305645 was due to be taken off the list that same night after being in circulation for five days.

Last night K-M 2399020 "ran out."

That leaves N-M 7398600 and a new bill, M-M 9698993, travelling the money lanes of Edmonton and district.

They are both of one-dollar denomination. Either one will net you $20 if you bring it into the Bulletin office and explain how it came into your possession.

There are no other rules. No forms to fill out.

First winner in the magic money game was Mrs. H. W. Dyer, Calder housewife. Second was Winterburn farmer W. J. Campbell.

Get your thumb busy on that bankroll. Won't be long now before end of the magic money game.

Remember the good ones:
N-M 7398600 and M-M 9698993.

Man Finds Small Fortune Through Bulletin Want Ads

ANDREW ANDERSON
. . . Finds $1,000.

You find almost anything in The Bulletin want ads—even inconspicuous little notices that someone has found a thousand dollars and wants to locate the owner.

"Found large sum of money Thursday morning . . . owner may have same by proving property and paying for this ad."

That's the little ad Andrew Anderson put in The Bulletin after he found more than $1,000 lying in the gutter yesterday morning.

KNOWS WHAT TO DO

The young city electrician decided to turn private detective and find the owner himself rather than turn the money over to the police.

"I didn't see any object in giving them the money," he said. "They don't know any more about it than I do. I'd like to see anyone who claims it myself."

Police were somewhat nonplussed when he reported the find to them but declined to turn over the money.

"We weren't quite sure what the law was on that point. We've never had it happen before," said Inspector Bert Petheram. "We find he is entirely within the law, however."

He added, however, that anyone finding money who refuses to return it to the rightful owner, or who does not report the find, can be charged with 'theft by finding.'

If money or lost articles are not claimed within six months they are customarily returned to the finder by police.

Young Anderson found the money in the gutter at 113 street near 102 avenue at 7:35 Thursday morning as he was on his way to work at Sunley Electric, 11336-103 avenue.

"It was scattered about loosely in the gutter," he said. "No two bills were together."

He declined to give the denominations of the bills or further particulars of the find.

"About the only way I can identify the owner will be to get his description of the bills and how he lost them," he said. "All I want to do is get this money back to the rightful owner and I want to be sure in my own mind that no one else gets it."

A Federal income tax official stated the money will be tax-free if there is no claimant.

"This money is considered as capital gain and is tax-free," he said. "Gambling winnings come in the same class—unless the gambler can be considered a professional."

Inspector Petheram stated police believe they have located the owner and will introduce him to Anderson as soon as the electrician returns from an out-of-town job.

Allies Won't Go Across Korean Border, Reds Told

NEW YORK, Oct. 6—(AP)—Britain assured Russia and Communist China today that Gen. MacArthur's forces in moving through North Korea would not advance beyond the Korean border.

Kenneth Younger, British minister of state, gave this "solemn assurance" during final debate in the UN general assembly on an eight-power resolution authorizing MacArthur's forces to proceed beyond the 38th parallel.

Younger said the UN troops in MacArthur's command would not remain in North Korea any longer than necessary to insure unification and pacification of the country. Russia and Communist China border on Korea.

More SARNAK On The Way!

Over 50,000 bottles of Sarnak sold in the West in the last six days. People who had given up trying different remedies have taken another chance and bought Sarnak; because Sarnak showed them relief from the first bottle, they not only buy it again and again, but tell their friends who suffer from some form of rheumatic pain, some kidney and liver disorders, stomach upsets, nervousness, sleeplessness, nutritional anemia and constipation. This means more and more people are buying Sarnak all the time. If you can't buy it now, perhaps you will have an opportunity in a few weeks to take Sarnak for your condition of health.

No Jackpots Today

It's a funny world. The city confiscates one batch of slot machines and keeps installing more slot machines. What are those parking meters if not slot machines?

And did you ever hear of anybody hitting a jackpot on a parking meter?

Didn't Mr. Bumble say: "The law is an ass?"

* * * *

There's a signal today for Bill Gordon of HMCS Cayuga, from Buttons, Bobby and Raymond. It reads as follows:

"Hello. What's cookin' since the Aloha card from Hawaii? Write and let us know how you're doing."

Freight rates may be up but passengers can ride for next to nothing. That is if the passengers happen to be a woman with five children under five years of age.

* * * *

Here's the story, sent in by Mrs. Hilda Harrow of Clive: The bus going from Clive to Lacombe stopped on the highway to pick up an Indian woman and her five children. She bought just one ticket to Lacombe. It cost just 30 cents.

A motorist and his good wife rate orchids today. The car carried Alberta licence No. 124-206.

It stopped at about 8 p.m. yesterday at 121 street and Jasper. A lady got out and helped a blind man across the street.

Annie doesn't live here any more: My old friend Omar Blondahl is a bit rusty on his sport characters. The other day someone phoned Omar at CFRN and asked if Annis Stukus was around the studio.

"We got nobody named Annie working here," said Omar.

Had a pleasant visit the other day from Paul Giroux, who operates the general store at McLennan. He has been up McLennan way for 30 years.

Paul was lucky to arrive in Edmonton. Had he kept going the direction detour signs indicated he would probably have ended up behind the Iron Curtain.

* * * *

Paul had a ride down with salesman Bob Sorochan of Hayward Builders Supplies and they felt like the dead end kids.

One detour sign, three miles east of High Prairie, hangs from a willow bush (it should be weeping willow) and the wind blows it completely around.

The car became stuck in a dead-end morass. The farmer who pulled it out told Giroux and Sorochan he had pulled out "dozens of cars" in the last few days.

Mr. Giroux says the road from McLennan to Edmonton is, for the most part, poorly maintained.

A very good goodnight to all and especially to kiddies who can ride free on trains and buses.

Shoe Repair Man Wins OK to Fix Shop Front

Peter Cherski can now go ahead with his plans to stucco his shoe repair shop fronting on 86 avenue at 99 street.

City council's bylaws committee last night spent a solid hour debating complicated zoning restrictions, and finally concluded that Mr. Cherski's small shop can stay where it is—despite the fact that several city officials said the regulations don't permit any business to front on either lane or avenue in situations like this.

SHOP MOVED

The shop was moved last spring from its previous location fronting on 99 street, when Rueben W. Pearson built an addition to his existing three-storey building on the northwest corner of the 86 avenue-99 street intersection.

But its new location, fronting on 86 avenue behind the stores, irked 86 avenue residents to such an extent that petitions began bombarding city commissioners.

Main burden of complaint about the shop centred on its un-stuccoed, sign-covered exterior.

Mr. Cherski said he'd planned to stucco immediately after the move, but the petitions had brought about a delay.

When the "anti" petitioners agreed such action would satisfy them, provided Mr. Pearson is not permitted to later build some other business structure fronting 86 avenue, committee members told Mr. Cherski to get on with his stuccoing.

New Bridge Planned To Span River

Construction of a new bridge crossing the North Saskatchewan river east of Edmonton to divert Highway No. 16 traffic to 118 avenue will begin early next spring.

Re-routing of the Lloydminster-Edmonton Highway No. 16 where it approaches the city is now underway. Previously the highway entered the city near the Imperial Oil refinery site.

TRAFFIC DIVERSION

Completion of the new bridge will permit diversion of traffic through the north part of the city of Edmonton, with 118 avenue being used as a trucker's route and 109 avenue being used as the main cross-town route for automobiles.

The traffic diversion will continue through to the west city limits where a main highway cut-off will permit Jasper highway traffic to be diverted from 102 avenue to 109 and 118 avenues.

Brewing Workers Open Two-Day Convention Here

Two-day convention of the Brewery, Malt, Soft Drinks and Allied Trades Federation of Western Canada (TLC-AFL) opened today in Edmonton's Labor Temple.

Delegates from breweries and soft drink plants in the three prairie provinces are attending.

George Cushing, secretary-treasurer of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, will represent the congress at the convention.

The brewery workers two-day meeting immediately precedes major three-day Alberta Federation of Labor convention due to get underway Oct. 9.

Manager Honored

TOMAHAWK, Oct. 6 — Albert Boisjoli, manager of the Tomahawk hotel for the past few years was honored at a dance in the Tomahawk hall last week.

A record crowd attended the farewell dance, at which a presentation was made to Mr. Moisjoli and to Walter Gunn and Hennah Frier, members of the staff who are also leaving.

$20,000 Asked For Edmonton Poppy Fund

The annual Poppy Fund campaign is under way in Edmonton with a record objective of $20,000.

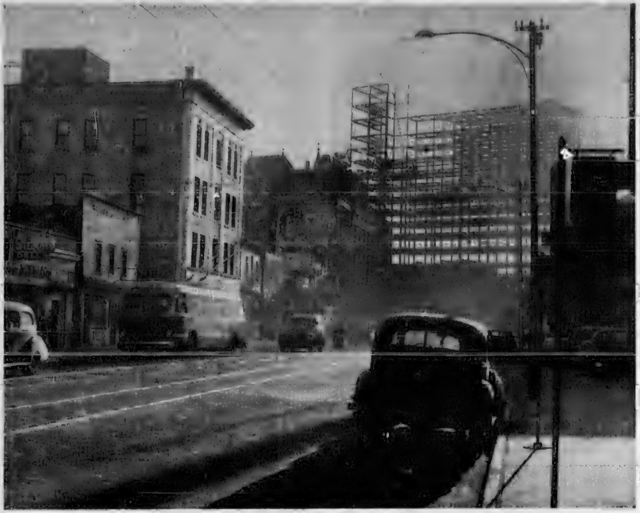
"We expect the need to be greater than ever this year," said Stewart Pettet, secretary of the Canadian Legion. "Unemployment was up some last winter and we expect it to be high again this year. Furthermore, we have more aging veterans every year who are in need of assistance.

The annual campaign will wind up on Poppy Day, November 4, when street sales of poppies will be made.

Chairman of the campaign is Percy Gwynne, past-president of the Montgomery branch of the Canadian Legion.

Mothers' Meeting

The King Edward Park mothers club will hold their monthly meeting in the community hall on Oct. 9 at 8:00 p.m.



Old Blends With the New

LATE AFTERNOON SUN etches gaunt skeleton of new Macdonald hotel addition against sky in this unusual photo by Edmonton Bulletin photographer Eric Bland. Appearing as though in middle of Jasper avenue, rising structure is favorite haunt for would-be contractors and sidewalk superintendents from all over city. Addition, to be highest building in city, will blend its modern design and streamlining with more dignified and staid design of Macdonald hotel.

ALLAN G. NOREM
... Wins Scholarship

Youth Wins Fellowship

Winner of a $1,500 Standard Oil of Indiana Fellowship, Allan G. Norem left recently for Stanford University in California.

Mr. Norem was an engineering and physics graduate in the 1950 class at University of Alberta.

The student will continue study and research at the American university.

He was also winner of the H. R. Webb Memorial Scholarship and several other awards during his undergraduate years.

For the past two years he has been employed on research projects concerning aircraft with the Dominion Council, Ottawa.

His parents reside in Edmonton.

Community Chest Collections At $23,996

Donations of $6,087 received Thursday in the campaign of the Community Chest of Edmonton brought the total for the first four days of the drive up to $23,996.

Thursday's donation included $2,000 from the employes of the Swift Canadian Co. Ltd. packing plant in Edmonton.

Lieut.-Gov. to Break New Ground In Labor Relations

The lieutenant governor of Alberta, Hon J. J. Bowlen, will break new ground in government-labor relations when he attends the opening of the three-day Alberta Federation of Labor convention starting in Edmonton, Oct. 9.

His attendance will mark the first time a lieutenant-governor has appeared at a federation gathering.

Another "first" for convention will be the absence of Carl Berg, national vice-president of the Trades and Labor Congress, the federation's parent body.

LEAVES CITY

Berg will miss his first federation convention in decades when he leaves Edmonton on congress' business just prior to convention opening.

Close to 200 delegates from 114 member organizations in the federation will gather here from all parts of the province to discuss such questions as hours of work, labor - government - management meetings, other aspects of the labor scene.

Shoots Self Accidentally

Shot through the heart when a shotgun he was carrying accidentally discharged, Michael Siwiski, 28, was instantly killed at Seba Beach Wednesday. Accident occurred at 4 p.m.

A resident of Seba Beach, located about 60 miles west of Edmonton, Siwiski had proceeded to Hathaway's general store on his bicycle, the loaded double-barrel shotgun placed across the handle-bars.

He parked the bicycle against the cement step of the store, got off the bicycle and pulled the gun toward him, barrel first.

A sudden blast from the gun brought the store's customers into the street, but Siwiski was dead.

A carpenter by trade, Siwiski was returning from work when he stopped at the store.

BOARD PLANS PARADE FOR '51 EXHIBITION

Edmonton's 1951 Exhibition will open with a big parade, the first for many years.

Decision to revive the opening day parade was made last night at a meeting of the Exhibition Association directors.

"Everybody likes a parade, and besides it always adds a little glamor to the whole show," James Paul, manager, told the directors.

A committee of five directors will be appointed by the board chairman to organize plans for the parade.

Town Planner Declares Traffic Survey Urgent

A thorough survey of Edmonton parking facilities, parking habits and the direction of traffic is necessary before a solution of the city's parking problem can be found.

Noel Dant, town planner, told the Optimist Club Thursday that the need for such a survey was "urgent."

"A traffic count is not enough," he said. "That only tells volume. We must know the origin and destination of traffic."

He said he could not give the answer to the traffic problem until the main highways were determined. It would also be necessary to settle on parking classifications (like short term and long term parking) and make an estimate of parking requirements.

Action must come quickly on the downtown parking problem, the town planner said, with provision made for rush hour traffic.

Mr. Dant said short term parking was properly a public service and long term parking (as for employes) was a private responsibility.

"Parking meters are no real answer to the problem," he said.

LOSES COURTROOM FIGHT

Fails to Prove That Pills, Not Liquor, Floored Him

Few men fought harder for their freedom than James Conley of Edmonton yesterday in police court.

First arrested early Sept. 27 on a charge of intoxication, Conley could hardly wait to get into the witness stand to tell Magistrate S. G. Main the true story of how he came to be lying on the cafe floor, smelling strongly of liquor and unable to stand.

He loftily refused his opportunity to question the two constables who arrested him, then hurried across the court room, kissed the Bible too soon in his hurry to take the oath and began a 15-minute verbal battle with the prosecutor.

"It wasn't alcohol; it was pills," he explained at the outset. The pills were to relieve the extreme pain of an injury he suffered in a traffic accident this summer.

But he admitted he took "a sip of wine."

What about the "strong smell of alcohol?" Prosecutor Guy Beaudry asked.

"Mr. Beaudry," said Conley patiently. "I'll give you credit for being a smart man. A half-ounce of alcohol smells just as strong as eight ounces."

The magistrate agreed that the amount of liquor made much difference. "But not in your condition," he said.

He sentenced Conley to three months.

Board Acts On Gardens' Car Problem

New Gate Ordered To Ease Movement

Easier parking of their cars this winter is in sight for patrons of hockey games at the Edmonton Gardens.

Directors of the Edmonton Exhibition Board meeting last night agreed to proceed with plans outlined by James Paul, manager, to remedy the parking problem at the grounds.

A new gate will be provided about 50 feet east of the present north gate so that two lines of traffic will be able to leave the grounds at the same time.

NEW CROSSING

New crossing necessitated for the second line of traffic to pass over the street car tracks will be provided by the city.

Directly in front of the Gardens, the present parking area will be railed off in lanes so that cars can be parked in several lines. Pedestrian walks will be provided between the lanes of cars.

Space in front of the stock pavilion will be utilized for parking directors' and officials' cars and for taxis.

FAIR PROFITS

Net profits of the summer fair were $97,000, compared to $98,000 a temporary financial report presented to last night's meeting indicated.

Of this amount, $21,000 in receipts came from pari-mutuel racing, and $73,000 from all other activities. Sum of $8,000 was provided for expenses in connection with improving the grandstand.

Directors at last night's meeting also:

1. Heard Mr. Paul's report that the roof will be on the new grandstand by early November.
2. Elected L. P. Bromham as director, filling the position vacant since the death of former alderman James Douglas.
3. Named Mr. Paul and President H. W. J. Maddison as the board's delegates to the Royal Winter Fair at Toronto. The two representatives will also attend the International Hay and Grain Show at Chicago.

APPROACH CITY

Directors also agreed to approach the city for use of part of Borden Park east of the present zoo site, to which they plan to move the drill hall and thus clear the midway.

Originally the board requested a 50-foot wide strip of the park, but this was refused.

Use of the entire park by the Exhibition Association would facilitate administration and would also provide an income of $40,000 to $50,000 from concessions, Mr. Paul told the meeting.

A suggestion that the entire park area might be claimed by the Association was contained in a letter from A. G. Harrison, a former secretary of the Association, which was read to the meeting.

Mr. Harrison said the entire 143 acres, which now includes the exhibition ground and Borden Park was originally granted to the association. It was agreed 88 acres should be developed by the association immediately and the right to develop the entire property as the city expanded should be maintained by the Association.

Stainless steel is used by some surgeons to patch or replace damaged bones because the metal withstands body acid and does not poison the blood.

Purple-Dyed Leather Matches Heather Coat

By Bea Thrifty

"I've never seen a purple cow, I never hope to see one" . . . is an outmoded phrase.

And sad as I am to see the limerick fall from favor . . . it is nice to see leathers dyed to a rich beautiful purple. I'm taking this round-about way to describe a perfectly lovely hand-tooled bag featuring purple leather . . . if you please.

An over-the-shoulder plain, simple model, it was dyed and designed to be worn with a heather tweed coat. 'Twas pretty indeed, and the royal handbag was made by a world-war veteran on order.

More accessory bits and pieces come to mind and matter with a few fine words about the jewel-colored suede berets.

Many moons ago I cherished a Kelly green suede beret . . . and to this day it's a fine 'n fancy bit of headgear. Which all adds up to the fact that suede never really falls from fashion's favor and is wearable, durable.

★ ★ ★ ★

I saw an array of the bright-shaded lids shown with matching draw-string or pouch bags . . . in suede too, of course. Hats sold at prices varying from $4.95 upward with bags going at slightly more.

★ ★ ★ ★

Robin-Hood hat hi-jinks are seen in suede, fur-felt and velvet with perky feathers sailing roguishly into the air.

These start at $5,95 and trail upward far too rapidly.

★ ★ ★ ★

Velveteen vestees, corduroy dickies and suede weskits are round and about for fall casual wear.

And it's a foin big hit they're after makin' with the teen-agers and their slim-figured sisters 'n Moms.

A velveteen sleeveless blouse is a black beauty with tiny Peter Pan collar and rhinestone buttons.

Suitable for evening suit-wear . . . or matched with an evening skirt of simple lines . . . it's a $5.95 to $6.50 gem indeed.

★ ★ ★ ★

Corduroy blouses follow the same pattern for less formal attire and are available in russets, wines, greens, browns and teal blue for $4.95 and $5.50.

★ ★ ★ ★

Suede weskits are in a different price range. But for them as can afford the durable smarties they're a fine-fashion buy indeed.

You'll pay as much as $22.50 for these . . . or as little as $7.95 . . . depending on quality, cut and brand-name.

★ ★ ★ ★

Velvet helmet-type caps appeared briefly last year to make a mild merchandising sensation. They are back on the bit this year with extra flair and flavor.

Cocktail-hour headgear is available now in the simple little hats made of sheer velvet in bronze, aqua, American Beauty.

These start at $2.25 and work upward.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS

Streak of Ugly Jealousy Bothers Home Partnership

DEAR MISS DIX: I am having a terribly jealous streak that is making me do foolish things and putting wrinkles in my face.

My husband works with a very attractive and sweet girl. I know she is crazy about him and he likes her, but I am sure. I'm the one he loves.

Lately she has been waiting to walk home with him and that is what has got me all roused up.

It makes me so resentful toward him that I don't treat him right. A couple of times I have shown my jealousy of her by letting loose and he just thought me silly.

How shall I treat the situation? I hate this being jealous, and I hope you can knock it out of me some way or another.

MRS. S. A.

ANSWER: You are the first green-eyed woman I have ever encountered who realized that jealousy made her do foolish things, so perhaps you can cure yourself. The only remedy for jealousy is an application of common sense to the situation.

LOOK AT PROBLEM CALMLY

Now, being more level-headed than most women, suppose you look your problem in the face and try to deal with it sanely instead of hysterically.

In the first place, calmly decide what real cause you have for jealousy.

Because your husband works with a pretty and attractive girl is no sign that he is in love with her. The world is full of pretty and attractive girls, but not every man who meets with one falls for her.

The fact that your husband chose you out of all the world for a wife should prove to you that you are his type, and until you have strong evidence to the contrary you are justified in believing that he still prefers you to any other woman.

Nor have you any proof that the girl is in love with your husband. Because you are in love with him is no sign that every other woman is

Girls Make Success Of Basement Pottery

LONDON, (Reuters)—In a basement close to London's busy shopping and business centre, five girls are turning out lovely specimens of pottery to earn valuable dollars for Britain.

Two London girls started this small private enterprise which now appears to be developing into a flourishing concern. Much of the export work is for the United States, large decorated dishes being most popular.

The girls redecorated the basement, formerly the servant's quarters of a large house with ancient kitchen ranges, and bought a second-hand kiln and pottery wheel. Now they have several more.

The original two were soon joined by a girl from Dover and another from Birmingham—the latter with experience at a famous Swedish factory. Latest addition to the group is an 18-year-old art student.

WHY GROW OLD

Dry Milk Low Calorie High Calcium Content

By Josephine Lowman

Today I want to call your attention to non-fat dry milk. I wish to do this because of the great health values involved.

Many women leave milk off their diet because they feel it is fattening. It is true that a glass of whole milk has about 166 calories, and if you're on a 1,000 or 1,200 reducing calorie intake, three glasses of whole milk count up. Nevertheless, the health value of milk is so great that it should not be neglected even when you are on a reducing diet.

ONE QUART PER CHILD

Many women who have fairly large families leave milk off except in very small amounts because their budget will not allow it. With the powdered milk you can have the essentials you need for good nutrition. Every child should have a quart of milk a day. Adults should have two glasses a day for best nutrition and health.

Tobe on Fashion—

Nothing Is Smarter Than A Beautiful Black Suede Bag

I think nothing is smarter than a really beautiful black suede bag. And this fall they look better than ever to me because the suede leather itself is so much finer than it has ever been—even in moderate price bags. Most of it is crack-resistant too—pretty nearly foolproof at that! I like suede best in box bags in new slightly larger sizes that are so smart this year. As a matter of fact I think the box bag fashion has been a great boon to women—it's taught us how to organize our bags and keep them in order. You have to—or you'd never get everything into them.

MONTREAL—(CP)—A reformed classical violinist from Winnipeg is Montreal's liveliest new night-club star.

Pretty, effervescent Gisele is known throughout the country for her CBC network singing, but it wasn't until this fall that she invaded the tough night-club field—where personality is as important as voice.

Blase Montreal supper-dancers have discovered that she has perfect natural timing and highly-animated facial expressions to go with her attractive contralto.

Ambitious and restless, she frankly hopes to become a "great star."

HONEYMOON in Jasper and Banff followed the recent wedding of Victoria Chernecki and W. Kuchar. Bride is daughter of Andrew Chernecki of Vegreville. Her husband is son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Kuchar of Edmonton.

Choir Sings for Wedding Of W. Carter-V. Brown

Wedding music by All Saints' Choir filled the Cathedral one evening recently as Violet Elizabeth Brown became the bride of Wallace G. Carter.

Bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Brown of Edmonton, and her husband, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Carter of Kent, Eng.

In a setting of multi-colored chrysanthemums, Rev. J. E. Williams performed the double ring ceremony in which the bride was given by her father.

Of ivory velvet, her gown was fashioned with a slight train. Her finger tip veil of illusion was held by a velvet coronet. She carried a prayer book garlanded with roses.

Mrs. M. J. Miller and Miss Marion Brown attended their sister and little Marion Blake was flower girl.

Styled on similar lines, attendants' dresses were of pale green and lemon respectively and they wore matching coronets. Little flower girl wore pink nylon with matching bonnet and carried a colonial bouquet of roses.

William Abercrombie attended the bridegroom, with Reginald Brown. Ushers were J. D. Miller and David Brown.

At a reception at King Edward hotel, the bride's mother received in a gown of tea rose crepe, with beige jacket and accessories. Her corsage was of yellow roses.

For their honeymoon trip, bride changed to a wine gabardine suit with matching accessories and grey top coat.

Salvation Army Wedding Unites Wall-McCready

Double ring ceremony performed by Senior Captain E. Halsey in Salvation Army Citadel united in marriage Miss Edith May McCready and Robert Richard Wall.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. McCready of Edmonton the bride was given in marriage by her father. Bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Wall of Winnipeg.

Of white Stratford satin, the bride's gown was styled with a full skirt and short train. Her fingertip veil was caught to her head by Sweetheart roses. She carried a bouquet of red roses and white baby chrysanthemums. She wore a triple strand of pearls.

Mrs. Douglas Gaudin was matron of honor; bridesmaids were Miss Dixie Wright and Miss Jean McDonald. Flower girl was Miss Karin Brown.

Matron of honor was in mauve nylon with matching hat and mittens. Bridesmaids were in charm rose and apple green with matching mittens.

Flower girl was in Primrose yellow, a band of roses and chrysanthemums on her head.

COLONIAL BOUQUETS

All carried colonial bouquets of Sweetheart roses and chrysanthemums.

Thomas Wolfe was best man and ushering the guests were Ronald Waite and David Kitson.

Later at a reception in the Mills Motors building for 150 guests, mother of the bride was in a navy and white crepe dress with white accessories. Her corsage was of red roses.

For a motor trip to Vancouver, the bride changed to a tan pic and pie suit with pink and brown accessories.

Newlyweds will make their home in Edmonton.

Molyneux Salon Like Mad-House At Big Closing

LONDON, Oct. 6—(CP)—The dignified Molyneux Salon in London's Grosvenor street, done in dove-gray and crystal, became the background of one of London's biggest sales-scrambles this year.

After 18 years, Edward Molyneux was selling out. Because of ill-health, he is closing his London salon to concentrate his interests in Paris.

At the farewell sale, women pushed and snatched with bargain-basement enthusiasm, looking for bargains among models ranging from £25 ($77.50) day dresses to £1,000 furs.

For the sake of a Molyneux label, many women bought clothes they probably could never wear with distinction.

Garments were sold at half price or less. For example, a white satin embroidered evening dress was marked down from £100 to £25. Another tempting item—a sylph-like, cream-and-gold brocade wedding gown marked down from £150 to £90—was still on the rails at the end of the day—it had a 20-inch waist.

Women's Political Weakness Deploring Says YWCA Prexy

TORONTO—(CP)—Mrs. J. L. Savage, national president of the Young Women's Christian Association, today deplored the dearth of women in Canada's parliament.

Even more disturbing, she told the session of the national council's 57th annual meeting, was the fact that no one seemed particularly worried about this state of affairs.

"As members of the world's largest women's organization we should make citizenship training one of our foremost responsibilities."

Growing Need Seen For Social Workers

OTTAWA—(CP)—Miss Marjorie L. Moore of Winnipeg, national president of the Canadian Association of Social Workers, told a week-end meeting of the association's board of directors that they had a real responsibility in helping recruit new social workers in Canada.

She said there was growing demand for qualified personnel in the social field. Another important role for the association was improving welfare services and developing new services.

SACRED HEART Church was setting for an early morning ceremony uniting in marriage Helen Tymkow and Arthur Brennan. Bride is daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Tymkow of Edmonton. Newlyweds will make their home in California.

St. Joseph's Cathedral Setting for Wedding

St. Joseph's Cathedral was the setting for an attractive double-ring bridal one morning recently when Marie Antoinette Rotzinger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Rotzinger of Nisku, became the bride of Morley Hodgson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hodgson of Outlook, Sask.

The bride, who was given in married by father, was united in marriage by Rev. A. D. O'Brien.

She wore a taupe gabardine suite with a pink velvet hat. Her accessories were pink and she wore a corsage of gardenias encircled with pink Sweetheart roses.

Theresa Pomerleau was bride's attendant, wearing a gray English wool suit with a black velvet hat.

Marcel Rotzinger was best man and ushering the guests were Edward McCoy and Rene Rotzinger. Mrs. I. Olsen played the wedding music.

For a reception at the Corona hotel, the mother of the bride received, wearing a gray gabardine suit with green felt accessories. Her corsage was of pink roses. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Hodgson, was in a gray gabardine suit with navy accessories. She wore a corsage of pink roses.

One Woman Eligible For Army Training Top-Notch Post

WINNIPEG—(CP)—What about about a woman General?

Two directors of the Imperial Defence College visiting here shied away from commenting when asked whether women would ever be eligible for the Commonwealth Military Staff College.

J. G. Ward, civilian member of the directing staff, was a bit more voluble on the subject but suggested the field for women would be highly limited.

"There is probably just about one woman in the military field in England who would be admissable," said Mr. Ward. "That is the Brigadier of the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps."

Mrs. Wallace Carter Entertained Widely

Widely feted prior to her recent marriage was Mrs. Wallace Carter, formerly Miss Violet Brown.

Mrs. Carter had been employed in Calgary, and, before returning to Edmonton for her wedding, was entertained at several teas and showers.

Old and new members of All Saints' Cathedral choir were entertained at home of Mrs. J. H. Phillips. Miss Brown, also a choir member was guest of honor.

Mrs. J. F. Brown, bride's mother entertained bridal party, the evening before the wedding.

Mrs. L. Hickey Entertains at Tea Honoring Daughter

White and yellow chrysanthemums decorated the home of Mrs. L. Hickey last evening when she entertained more than 60 guests in honor of her daughter Cecilia, bride-elect of Saturday.

Mrs. Hickey received in a navy blue ensemble, complemented with red roses. Miss Hickey wore gold faille and a corsage of bronze chrysanthemums.

Laid with a lace cloth, the table was arranged with chrysanthemums and tall white tapers.

Mrs. E. de Grace and Mrs. E. O'Callaghan presided at the urns.

Serving were Mrs. O. Jacobs and Miss Margaret Hill.

Mrs. D. Hickey showed the trousseau.

Women's Services Get New Officers This November

LONDON, (CP)—Britain's Women's Royal Naval Service will have a new director in November.

She is superintendent Mary K. Lloyd, who will succeed Dame Jocelyn M. Woolcombe.

Miss Lloyd joined the W.R.N.S. as a steward in October, 1939, and served as a motor transport driver and clerk. Within a year, she was commissioned and promoted Third Officer.

Her future advancement was rapid and in December last year she was put in charge of training and drafting at H.M. training establishment "Dauntless."

The Women's Royal Air Force also has a new chief—43-year-old group officer Nancy Salmon. The tall, blue-eyed woman hopes to promote a different regulation uniform for the present one.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Father Can Help By Being Well-Informed

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

Recently, I talked to a young couple who were expecting their first baby.

There are too many fathers, who, after viewing the new baby in the hospital and remarking humorously upon its ugliness, and deigning to carry it home, literally dump it in the mother's lap. "Here, it's yours," they say, just as if this were a piece of merchandise for whose purchase and care the mother was entirely responsible.

A father can carry this attitude through life, a sort of hands-off, let-mother-do-it one. Such fathers enjoy [illegible] children when they are all dressed up an clean; take pride in their achievements, without turning a hand to make them clean or to polish off their talents.

Parenthood is a two-way game. Children need their fathers in times of stress as well as when the sun is shining.

Young fathers should be exposed to child-training groups as well as to child-training and parental education literature.

If parents work together to discover what makes the baby tick, if they take [illegible] equal share in rearing the baby, (even if not always doing the same tasks)—they have solved one of the big obstacles to a successful marriage.

Our leaflet No. 78, "Help You May Get From Books", may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper.

And I thought I was boss of this restaurant!

Uncle Wiggily's Bedtime Story

Uncle Wiggily looked at Juggo, the big green frog who jumped backward instead of frontward. Then Uncle Wiggily twinkled his pink nose and looked at Cousin Jumper, the visiting adventure rabbit from Green Tree Valley. Then Mr. Longears looked at Buster and Bunty.

"What did you say a little while ago, Buster?" Uncle Wiggily asked the rabbit scout.

Buster tried to twinkle his little pink nose like his daddy's big pink nose. The rabbit did very well for a small rabbit. Then he said to Uncle Wiggily:

"I was saying, Daddy, that it would be fun to have a frog race."

"How many frogs would be in the race?" asked Mr. Longears.

"I was thinking of three frogs," answered Buster. "This big green frog and my friends Bully and Bawly No Tail."

"Yes, such a frog race might be fun," agreed Uncle Wiggily. "But you would first have to ask Bully and Bawly if they want to be in a race with this big green frog."

"I'll do that," promised Buster. "Now I'll ask the big green frog is he willing to go in the race."

"Are you speaking of my frog?" asked Cousin Jumper, the visiting adventure rabbit from Green Tree Valley. "Do you want the frog that I found in the grass to race against Bully and Bawly?"

"Yes, if you please," Buster answered. "May I speak to your frog, Cousin Jumper Hare?"

"Yes, you may," answered Uncle Wiggily's cousin. "I think a frog race would be a fine adventure."

"Chief, will you and your police dogs please keep the crowds back when the three frogs race?" said Uncle Wiggily.

"I surely will," promised Chief. "But I think there may be trouble."

"What sort of trouble?" asked Uncle Wiggily.

"Jumping trouble," Chief answered. "You see Juggo jumps backward and Bully and Bawly jump frontward. How can we tell who wins the race?"

"Oh, I never thought of that," said Buster. "Oh, dear! This surely is trouble. Can you think of a way out of this trouble, Mr. Hare?"

Mr. Jumper Hare, the visiting cousin adventure rabbit, twinkled his pink nose. Then he flipped his left ear. Next he flipped his right ear. Then he said:

"I think the best thing to do would be—"

"Excuse me, Cousin Jumper," said Uncle Wiggily politely, "but I think I hear voices. Hark!"

And tomorrow, if the egg beater will stir some strawberry jam in the oatmeal to make it look like ice cream, I'll tell you what happened next.

Horoscope

By FRANCIS DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars

FOR SATURDAY, OCT. 7, 1950

March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—A few unimportant happenings and some important ones. Balance up your sheet; make accurate decisions. Get ready for later moves. Watch news and money conditions carefully.

April 21 to May 20 (Taurus)—Dull? Uninteresting day? For some things, perhaps, but there is much of importance for all of us these days. Some tension likely, but relaxing after 4 p.m. Take stock; act after close study.

May 21 to June 21 (Gemini)—Defer any thought of changing position or [illegible] unless necessary. Some unfavorable matters you aren't familiar with? Be sensibly cautious, and gentle in domestic and family affairs.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer)—Some adverse elements that could be very annoying if you let them. Keep busy, don't listen to idle chatter, and let well enough alone—if things are progressing rightly.

July 24 to August 22 (Leo)—Slightly [illegible] You won't do any good for yourself or others if you just dissent, or retreat. Have the peacemaker attitude, but also fight sturdily.

August 23 to September 23 (Virgo)—Dig in. A "storm" may approach and try to spoil some well-meant plans. You have a pleasing smile; now is the time for it. Avoid those who excessively enthuse or elaborate.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra)—Your planet's position indicates considerable pressure from outside, especially in business and finances. Be carefully slow to act; consider all phases and suggestions before deciding.

October 24 to November 22 (Scorpio)—Keep in close contact with your best influences. Many new and interesting happenings transpire. Indications denote tremendous revival of business, charity and community interests.

November 23 to December 22 (Sagittarius)—Fine now for science, manufacturing, invention, new mineral fields to discover and work on; personal affairs favored. Matters generally good, but be alerted, ready to grasp advantages.

December 23 to January 21 (Capricorn)—Very favorable rays for most of day. Don't waste time talking, act with good sense—you will achieve. Vast fields of business open to you who are on the job, who work hard and earnestly.

January 22 to February 20 (Aquarius)—Not all encouraging, but for you who call upon your God-given intelligence, wise judgment and intuitive, day will stimulate for real gains. Add others' knowledge to yours before acting.

February 21 to March 20 (Pisces)—Some extra fine vibrations. All endeavors should be well-planned, then they will certainly click. Consistent effort can boost you along to successful undertakings. Heart interests honored.

YOU BORN TODAY: You natives of Libra, love beauty in nature and in humans. Harmony and refined surroundings best suited to your advancement in any line of work or profession. Venus, dominant in your chart, accentuates sensitivity, pride, and the finer arts. Many musicians, artists, actors, public speakers and officials born under Libra. You love home, family, children, domestic life—don't care to roam too much. Have some moods, but are generally even-tempered, tender, amiable. Don't be over-sensitive or brood. Good outlook ahead. Birthdate: Jas. Whitcomb Riley, poet; Rear Admiral Adolphus Andrews, U.S.; Rob't Z. Leonard, motion picture producer; June Allyson, actress.

38th Parallel Crossing Vote Expected Today

NEW YORK, Oct. 6—(AP)—The full United Nations Assembly meets today to approve to a resolution containing implied but clear permission for Gen. MacArthur to cross the 38th Parallel.

The resolution, which passed the all-important political committee Wednesday by a vote of 47 to 5, also contains a blueprint for Korea's future as a ward of the UN. Wednesday's vote assured a victory for the West today.

Only the five-country Soviet bloc opposed the plan in committee. Andrei Y. Vishinsky, Soviet foreign minister, is expected to rise today to continue the fight against the resolution, which is formally sponsored by Britain and seven other countries.

New Varsity Building May Be Built Here

A new biology and science building may be erected on the University of Alberta campus.

Initial cost of the building is estimated at about $750,000, but construction would be such that the structure could be added to as desired.

Plans for the new building are now being drawn up on the basis of the $750,000 initial estimate, and it is rumored that appropriation of costs for the new structure will be sought at the next legislative session.

Also rumored to be contemplated by the government is construction of a new engineering building on the university grounds.

Former Dictator Leads In Brazil

—RIO DE JANEIRO, Oct. 6.—(AP)—A trickle of early returns gave Brazil's former dictator, Getulio Vargas, a strong lead today over his two principal opponents in Tuesday's presidential election.

The 67-year-old candidate, who ruled Brazil for 15 years until deposed by the army in 1945, was leading even in states considered anti-Vargas territory. However, only a little more than one-tenth of the estimated 7,700,000 votes had been counted.

Livestock

EDMONTON, Oct. 6.—Total receipts: Cattle 495, calves 239, hogs 634 and shep 138.

Friday's cattle market was showing slightly better action at this morning's auction. Normal receipts and a carry-over of about 300 head from yesterday, should be reasonably well cleared by the close of the trading. Local packers were showing more interest in today's trade and were buying more of the butcher offering, although the majority of sales were still going to order buyers for country delivery. Demand continues not overly strong with prices about steady to slightly easier.

Good to choice steers $24.00 to $25.00. One small lot of top choice handyweight sold at $25.25.

Good to choice heifers $22.00 to $23.50 with odd singles up to $24.00.

Cows were considered to be slightly lower. Most sales of good butcher cows $16.50 to $17.00 with a few lightweights up to $17.50 Bulls were steady with good weighty bolognas $19.00 to $22.50. Veal calves unchanged. Good handyweights $27.00 to $28.00 and odd choice lightweights up to $29.50. Hogs were unsettled. Morning sales $1.00 lower. Grade "A" for shipment $28.00. Sows $18.75 and stags $14.50 liveweight.

Good handyweight lambs $23.00 to $24.00 off cars and $22.00 to $23.00 off trucks. Buck lambs discounted $1.00 per hundredweight.

Passengers included Canada's Transport Minister Chevrier and Jean Desy, Canadian ambassador to Italy. Also aboard were a group of Canadian newspapermen.

German Goods Found Faulty

BERLIN, Oct. 6.—(AP)—Russian-zone export industries were officially denounced today for sending abroad 20,000 watches which would not run and 300 cameras which could not take pictures.

Fritz Lange, chairman of the State Trade Control Commission disclosed these prorduction failures in an article in the Soviet official newspaper, Taeglicho Rundschau. He blamed most of the trouble on alleged American-sponsored saboteurs.

Socony Ramsay Staked To Extend Flint No. 1

By C. V. Myers
Bulletin Oil Editor

Socony Vacuum has staked its second follow-up to its Flint No. 1 discovery well.

Socony Ramsay No. 1, in lsd 13 of 15, 21 w4, is two miles directly west of the discovery well. The D-3, which Flint found at 4,809 feet, is the objective.

Meanwhile, Camrose No. 28-1, Socony's first follow-up to the discovery, one mile north and three quarters of a mile east of Flint, found gas but no oil in tests between 3,433 and 3,975 feet. Flint found the D-2 zone at 4,500 feet.

In the first test, between 3,433 and 3,453 feet, an air blow and 1,035 feet of salt water were received. In the second test between 3,963 and 3,975 feet, gas was received at the rate of 40,000 cubic feet per day, and 180 feet of slightly gas-cut mud, and 630 feet of salt water was recovered. Drilling is continuing past 3,975 feet.

★ ★ ★

California Standard's Welbourne No. 1, an east offset to the Acheson discovery, is approaching the D-3 zone, company officials believe.

Bottomed at 4,957 feet the hole is being logged, and casing will be run prior to drilling for the D-3. Acheson found the D-3 at 4,962 feet, a drilling depth of five feet more than Welbourne's total depth.

In the same area Central Del Rio Acheson, a mile and a half north of Standard's Acheson, is drilling at 4,498 feet.

Central Leduc Wild No. 2, a mile east of discovery well Central Wild No. 1, is drilling at 3,438 feet, while Wild No. 3, north of Wild No. 1, has set surface pipe at 620 feet.

★ ★ ★

Leduc Consolidated Oils Ltd. has distributed 400,000 shares of privately owned stock, largely in Eastern Canada, it was revealed Thursday. Application has been made to list the stock on the Toronto Stock Exchange.

The stock distribution is just part of the company's expansion program, company officials stated. Leduc recently acquired half interest in 248 acres in the promising Acheson area, and is currently drilling its second well, Leduc Consolidated Calmar No. 2, in the Leduc field.

★ ★ ★

Alberta Giant Oil Company Ltd., a local company headed by J. A. Buchanan, is making plans for a drilling program on their 7,040 acres in the Boyle area. Seismic survey was carried out last year on this acreage by Stonolind Oil & Gas.

Alberta Giant holds an interest in Saffold Long Island, a commercial gas discovery at Campbell, and in High Crest Campbell No. 1A.

Radar to Render Blackout Useless

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6—(AP)—Total blackouts of cities may not be ordered in any future wars because radar can locate many targets in the dark, W. Stuart Symington said yesterday.

The chairman of the national resources board said, however, that the blackout method of protecting against air raids may not be ruled out of civilian defence plans altogether. A special type of "lighting pattern" may be used.

City Sailor Is Promoted

Commissioned Gunner Fred Short, RCN, staff training officer at HMCS Nonsuch, has been promoted to the rank of lieutenant, it was announced recently by Naval Headquarters, Ottawa.

Lt. Short, a veteran of 25 years' experience in the Navy, started his career in 1919 as a boy seaman with the Royal Navy.

He started his second stretch with the navy at the beginning of the Second World War.

Lt. Short's home is in Victoria.

New Canadians Get In Trouble Over Drinking

Their first brush with Canadian law was a costly one for three young German immigrants today.

Arrested last night by Detectives Herb Graham and Ben Wheatfield when they were found drinking beer in a parked car, August Reachka, Helmut Riedner and Arnold Deverl were each charged with illegal possession in police court this morning.

Informed by Prosecutor Guy Beaudry that the three had only been in Canada two months, Magistrate S. G. Main let them off with a $10 fine each and a warning that drinking beer in cars was illegal in Alberta.

Lutherans Make Historic Departure

Convention Votes to Join New National Council

DES MOINES, Oct. 6.—(AP)—In a move which marked a historic departure for North America's largest body of Lutherans, the United Lutheran Church in America voted overwhelmingly at its convention yesterday to become a member of the new national council of Churches of Christ in America.

The decision to become a voting member of the council, taken after ULCA leaders had recommended the step, marks the 2,000,000-member church's first venture into full membership in such a co-operative American Protestant agency.

Approval was by standing vote of the delegates after floor debate on the proposal. Because of the overwhelming size of the approval votes a count was not taken.

The new national council is to be organized formally at a meeting which opens in Cleveland late next month. It will absorb the Federal Council of Churches and seven other inter-denominational agencies.

The Augustana Lutheran Church and the Danish Lutheran Church, along with 19 other Protestant faiths and four Eastern orthodox churches, previously had voted to join.

NO EFFECT HERE

Dr. Franklin Clark Fry, ULCA president who urged affiliation with the council, stressed that the move would not reverse or broaden ULCA policies and does not repeal Lutheran opposition to common worship with other Christians.

Among the more than 600 delegates to the convention are 28 from the three Canadian Synods—Canada, Western Canada and Nova Scotia.

Although they were not directly affected, the Canadian delegates took part in the ULCA decision on joining the council.

Dr. Fry stressed that "the fact that a portion of our church's constituency consists of Canadians ought not to lessen their intense interest in this issue or excuse them for voting their convictions about it."

Canadian synodical delegations are headed by Dr. J. H. Reble, Waterloo, Ont., Dr. C. H. Whittecar, Bridgewater, N.S., and Rev. J. Gergbush, Saskatoon, Sask.

Meter-Man Is Globe-Trotter

NASHUA, N.H., Oct. 6—(AP)—Had meter-reader Joseph T. Bechard's prosaic rounds been straightened out, he could have tramped around the globe approximately five times in the last 35 years.

The Public Service Company of New Hampshire said yesterday that Bechard had walked 125,000 miles while taking 2,500,000 metre readings, and hadn't missed a day's work since he had influenza in 1918.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—(AP)—Greece agreed yesterday to join Turkey in linking its military defence planning to the Mediterranean strategy of the Atlantic Treaty countries.

Five Gunmen Sought For Wave of Holdups

VANCOUVER, B.C., Oct. 6.—(BUP)—Overworked police today sought at least five gunmen in a current Vancouver "holdup wave," in which five businesses were raided and loot worth more than $7,000 taken.

A lone gunman, white-masked and wearing dark clothes, Thursday held up a drug store, escaping with $500 and all the narcotics in the shop.

In downtown Vancouver, another thug was chased out of a candy store by the woman clerk, who was alone.

The girl, Charlotte Leach, who left the chase in a nearby lane, said "I would have chased him until I caught him, if there had been someone else in the shop."

Twenty-four hours earlier, two gunmen robbed the Royal Bank of Canada East End branch and got away with $2,500.

A masked gunman held up the Canada Packers plant in Vancouver on Sept. 28, escaping with an accomplice with more than $4,700.

Junkman Sam Gross was robbed of $131 by a young gunman Wednesday. Police have arrested Robert Muscroft, 19, who is charged with the robbery.

The only other arrest was that of Donald Olsen, 29, who police allege participated in the meat plant holdup.

Police claim to have recovered $900 of the loot, found in Olsen's home.

Rockefellers Hosts To UN Delegates

Gottwald Warns Of West Ambush

PRAGUE, Oct. 6 — (AP) — President Klement Gottwald, in an order for Army Day in Czechoslovakia, said last night this Communist-led country must guard against "an ambush from abroad."

His order said this was necessary to safeguard the building of Socialism at a time when "American Imperialism" was preparing feverishly for a war for "world rule."

"CANADA WEST"!

In most cities throughout Canada, the West End seems to be the choice of the home-builder. Here, in Edmonton, our West End with its deep ravines and evergreens, natural beauty spots, can offer the prospective home owner more than any city in the Dominion. Planned lots 50' x 150' in size. Good schools, churches, bus service and friendly neighbors.

Rothschild, when asked, once said:

"Buy a piece of real estate in the West End of a growing city, keep it and it will keep you."

Prince Valiant
IN THE DAYS OF KING ARTHUR
BY HAROLD R. FOSTER
Synopsis: THE HARDY WARRIORS FROM THE NORTH HAD GRINNED WHEN THEY THREATENED TO HANG KING DUMDRIBILE AS A BRIGAND. HE KNEW THEY WOULD DO IT, TOO, STILL GRINNING! WHEN HIS SCHEME TO MAKE THEM ALL HIS SONS-IN-LAW FAILED, HE LOST HIS TEMPER!
PRINCE VALIANT IS HUNGRY. HE IS WONDERING IF ALL THE DINNER IS TO BE USED AS AMMUNITION, WHEN HE NOTICES THE BOWL OF HOT BROTH.
THE LADLE IS AT JUST THE RIGHT ANGLE. THE TANTRUM ENDS. DINNER IS RESUMED.
THE KING'S FAIR DAUGHTERS CONTINUE THEIR MEAL AS CALMLY AS IF USED TO THESE RAGES. ALL EXCEPT THE YOUNGEST; SHE STARES SOLEMNLY AT YOUNG ARF.
IT MAKES NO DIFFERENCE TO OLLIE THAT ARF HAS DEDICATED HIS LIFE TO THE SERVICE OF HIS LADY ALETA. SHE FOLLOWS HIM EVERYWHERE.
VAL FINDS THE KING'S SENESCHAL AND QUESTIONS HIM ABOUT THE CONTENTS OF THE DUNGEONS. THE SENESCHAL IS EVASIVE.
SO THEY QUESTION HIM AGAIN AND HE BECOMES MORE TALKATIVE..... EVEN FINDS THE KEYS.
THE DUNGEONS GIVE UP DUMDRIBILE'S RANSOM GUESTS.. FARM LABORERS AT A PENNY APIECE, SOME PEDDLERS, EVEN A RICH MERCHANT OR TWO.
VAL BECOMES SO DISGUSTED AT THE KING'S PETTY KNAVERY THAT HE ADDS A ROYAL GUEST!

A LETTER THAT HAS BEEN OPENED AND RESEALED CAN ALWAYS BE DETECTED BY THE DOUBLE GLUE LINE AT THE FLAP. IT IS ALMOST IMPOSSIBLE TO MATCH THIS GLUE LINE WHEN RESEALING. Dick Tracy
HE BEAT ONE MAN TO DEATH WITH A GOLF CLUB AND SERIOUSLY INJURED THE OTHER.
YES. HE'S A BAD ONE, MR. TRACY.

BUT SPARKLE'S ASLEEP! THAT NOISE WILL WAKE HER, B.O. PLENTY!
I'LL TURN OFF THE SOUND.

AND ON A CEILING CATWALK HIGH ABOVE THE RING—
SHE REFUSED TO HELP ME AND SET A TRAP FOR ME. I TAUGHT HER THE ONLY WRESTLING SHE KNOWS—AND SHE TRIES TO CROSS ME.
I KNOW THIS STADIUM FROM TOP TO BOTTOM. USED TO WORK THESE VERY LIGHTS. I'LL GIVE 'ER SOMETHING TO REMEMBER.
AHA-HAHA
THAT WAS A SHOT!
HEY—IT HIT BUBBLES!
